The slowest congress in history stampedes toward Christmas adjournment with records unequalled even by Truman's 80th congress.

Top Of The Morning

WEATHER

Variable cloudy skies and mild temperatures are expected today with a high temperature reading in the upper 40s. Continued cloudy and cooler tonight with a chance of rain mixed with snow. The overnight low temperature reading will be in the lower 30s. The extended forecast for Thursday through Monday indicates temperatures will average near normal with highs in the upper 30s and overnight lows in the upper 20s. It will be warmer the first part of the period turning cooler over the weekend. Yesterday's 7 a.m. report: high 46; low 38; there was 0.17 inches of precipitation recorded. The river level was 6.7 feet and rising.

Kinzua Dam Report

Pool level 1303.92. Upstream temperature 38, downstream temperature 38. Reading at the Warren gauge 6.80 and rising.

PENNSYLVANIA

A construction program designed to extend and widen the main runway at Bradford Regional Airport is expected to begin almost immediately, according to a Bradford Regional Airport Authority spokesman.

THE NATION

President Johnson flew to Florida to deliver a speech that contained an unusually tough attack on the Republican party, particularly its members in the House. He also thanked the A.F.L.-C.I.O. for supporting him on Vietnam and asked labor to do its part in stopping the wage-price spiral. The President addressed the national convention of the merged labor federation.

In the House, the administration's program to combat poverty suffered a financial blow. The House voted to give the Office of Economic Opportunity $370 million less than it had authorized one day earlier.

THE WORLD

More than 6,500 members of the 101st Airborne Division and their equipment have been flown to South Vietnam from the United States in the past three weeks. The American military command in Saigon described the operation as the largest and longest airlift ever undertaken. Before the movement is completed next week, 3,800 more members of the division are scheduled to arrive. More than 14,000 tons of weapons, vehicles and other combat equipment have also been flown from the division's former headquarters at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Armed with a revolver and a carbine, Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., and four civilian companions spent 15 minutes under Viet Cong mortar and small-arms fire in a South Vietnamese hamlet, five miles from the Cambodian border. A helicopter carried Mrs. Percy to safety while her husband and his party came under fire during a visit to the hamlet. The senator said later, "It was closer to action, I must say, than I got in three years of World War II."

A new military strategy for the west was formally adopted by the defense ministers of 14 North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries. They rejected the concept of massive retaliation for any Soviet aggression, an 11-year-old strategic doctrine that France had championed while a member of NATO's integrated command. They put forward a more flexible response in place of massive retaliation, which they said had become unrealistic and unconvincing.

President Nasser is willing to keep Egyptian forces out of part of the Sinai peninsula if Israel accepts two conditions, according to Cairo sources. They said the conditions were that Israel must evacuate the peninsula and demilitarize an equal area on her side of the Egyptian-Israeli border.

SPORTS

The Pennsylvania Game Commission announced yesterday that because of the low antlerless deer kill, the season will be extended to include Friday. Page 8.

Sheffield and Youngsville recorded basketball victories last night and Eisenhower's wrestling team also came away a winner. The Wolverine eagles topped the 100-point mark for the second straight game to defeat Eisenhower, 104-78, despite Knight Bob Burlington's 37 points. Youngsville held on to trip Cochran for the second time, 69-65 and the Knight matmen lost only the opening match in a 57-3 romp over the Eagle grapplers. The Warren-Edinboro cage team fell to visiting Venango Campus of Oil City, 100-77. Page 8.

Green Bay Packers dominated the NFL All-Star selected by The Associated Press with six first-stringers. Four Dallas Cowboys were first team choices and the unbeaten Baltimore Colts placed three, including Johnny Unitas at quarterback. Page 9.

Washington Redskin linebacker Sam Huff announced he would retire from the game after Sunday's game. Rated one of the NFL's greatest linebackers, Huff has played 12 seasons in the pros. Page 9.

CALLS INVASION A POSSIBILITY

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, House armed services committee chairman, right, angrily denounced "people who want to keep military under control" and said North Vietnam invasion was a "possibility" at a news conference prior to a Joint Chiefs of Staff dinner in New York City. Gen. Omar Bradley is seated next to Rivers with Adm. Arthur W. Radford in the rear.

U.S. Military Command Stages Largest and Longest Airlift

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
SAIGON — More than 6,500 members of the 101st Airborne Division and their equipment have been flown to Vietnam in the last three weeks in what the United States military command today described as the largest and longest airlift ever undertaken. Another 3,800 members of the division are scheduled to arrive before the operation is completed next week. Weapons, vehicles and other combat equipment with a total weight of more than 14,000 tons have also been flown from the division's former headquarters at Fort Campbell, Ky. Another 20,000 tons of lower priority supplies are en route in five ships. The airlift almost matched that of 1963, when about 1,800 American servicemen who had served in West Germany during the Berlin crisis were airlifted home. The division's 1st brigade of about 4,000 men has been in Vietnam since July, 1965. It is currently operating in the I Corps area. The 2nd and 3rd brigades, division headquarters, and supporting units such as artillery, signalers and engineers, are being flown into the Bien Hoa airbase 20 miles north of Saigon. According to the high command spokesman, Brig. Gen. Winant Siddle, these units, at least for the time being, will be stationed north of Saigon, under the command of the U.S. Second Field Force. Brig. Gen. Frank B. Clay, assistant division commander and commander of the advance party, said that company commanders and platoon leaders had already been assigned temporarily to other units to gain familiarity with combat conditions in Vietnam. However, more than 2,000 of the arriving troops have already served at least one tour here, he said, and 1,000 of these have volunteered to return with the division. The arrival of the division will bring the total number of American forces in Vietnam to about 480,000. A ceiling of 525,000 has been set by President Johnson. This total was scheduled to be reached by the end of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1968, but the timetable has been accelerated at the request of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, and the full complement is now regarded as likely to be in the country a month or two ahead of that date.

Report Nasser Willing To Demilitarize Sinai

(C) N.Y. Times News Service
CAIRO — President Gamal Abdel Nasser is willing to keep Egyptian forces out of part of the Sinai Peninsula if it is evacuated by Israeli forces, and if Israel agrees to demilitarize an equal area on her side of the Egyptian-Israeli border, informed sources said Tuesday. What the United Arab Republic would agree to, the sources said, would be the creation of a demilitarized strip or strips along the Peninsula's 125-mile border with Israel—extending back in equal distance from the border on both the Egyptian and the Israeli sides. There was no official confirmation of the report, which was the first indication from Cairo of a major area of possible accommodation between the two nations since the June war. The sources, who declined to be identified for publication, said the demilitarization could be supervised by the United Nations if and when Israel withdrew her troops from the peninsula which she seized in June. The question of demilitarization is expected to be raised during the visit here of the U.N. representative in the Middle East, Gunnar Jarring, who arrived in Beirut today.

NATO Ministers Adopt New Military Strategy for West

BRUSSELS (AP) — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization turned Tuesday night from the old concept of massive nuclear retaliation against any Eastern aggressor to a new grand strategy for defense of Europe. The drastic shift from the postwar policies propounded by John Foster Dulles came after the NATO defense ministers heard a warning from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara that the Russians are still probing for weaknesses in the West. The ministers adopted a strategy that would provide for controlled escalation of counterblows and provide time for last-minute peacemaking at the brink of war. At their year-end meeting, the key nations of NATO also decided against setting up an antiballistic missile—ABM—system stretching from the Arctic to the Aegean at an estimated cost of $10 billion. Their consensus was in line with another caution delivered by McNamara declared in arguing for flexibility. NATO would try to stem any attack with the use of conventional weapons to test whether the aggressor planned a brush fire conflict or all-out war. In the latter event, the allies would push the nuclear button. The massive retaliation strategy was the work of the late former Secretary of State Dulles, who served in the Eisenhower administration, and has been NATO policy for years. The 14 defense ministers also set new force goals for the next five years—from 1968 through 1972. Their target is 24 combat-ready divisions to serve as a shield force in Europe's heartland. In the absent McNamara's name by his deputy, Paul H. Nitze, that the alliance should not stake its future safety on ABMs. "Neither North America nor Europe could defend its people against a major Soviet nuclear strike by the use of ABMs," McNamara declared in arguing for flexibility. Legislators Try to Round Up Enough Votes for Tax Package

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Republican leaders struggled with no noticeable success most of Tuesday afternoon to secure sufficient votes to pass at least a $104 million tax package. "We're still working with individuals," commented Majority Whip Robert J. Butera, R-Montgomery, as he entered one of a series of tax meetings in the office of Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson, R-Allentown. "We don't have anything yet," Donaldson said later. "We'll keep trying." Minority Democrats, meanwhile, awaited a progress report from the GOP. "We have said if they could produce a significant bloc of votes, around 90, that it would be our obligation to provide the remainder," said Minority Whip K. Leroy Irvis, D-Allentown. It takes 102 votes to pass a House bill. "I feel a little more pessimistic than I did this morning, but for no reason other than the Republican caucus failed to report to us," he added. The GOP leadership has been shooting since the beginning of the week to be in a position to role a $104 million package Wednesday. "Every new day is a target date," Butera commented. The $104 million package, hammered out during three weeks of negotiations involving Gov. Shafer and the Republican and Democratic leaderships, is $50 million short of what the governor is asking. Shafer had agreed, in the interest of a final legislative adjournment before the end of the month, to defer consideration of the other $50 million until next year. "One of our problems is that a few of our fellows feel this is taking the easy way out," confided one Republican. "They believe that waiting on the other $50 million until next year—an election year—is making a difficult task even more difficult." There was a brighter side to the long day, however. Rep. Joseph W. Dorsey, R-Delaware, appeared on the House floor dressed as Santa Claus and declared: "I'm here to remind all members that Christmas is just around the corner. Let's get our job done and go home for the holidays."

Still Stringing Light Cable

The work of stringing a mile and a half of cable so that all the Christmas lights all over Warren could be turned on simultaneously is nearly completed, according to Abe Schwartz, chairman of Christmas lighting for the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce. Schwartz stated, last night, that by Friday most of Pennsylvania avenue will be lighted and by the weekend, weather permitting, all of the Christmas lights in Warren will be glowing. Crews started laying the special all-weather cable last Wednesday. The cable being installed, according to Schwartz, is a permanent installation and will solve difficulties presently being encountered for many years to come. Schwartz, indicated last night that the expense in stringing the cable was more than anticipated. He urged persons who wish to contribute to the Christmas lighting fund should do so as soon as possible to help offset the initial expense of laying the cable.

Police Find Wreckage Of Plane

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—State police found the wreckage of a two-seat plane Monday that crashed into a mountain in heavy sleet and fog, killing a passenger and burning the pilot.

The pilot, Steve Corley, 26, of Chattanooga, Tenn., leaped out after the crash. After he discovered he couldn't save his friend inside and that he was far from any houses, he sat beside the flickering wreckage all night.

He staggered out of the woods early Tuesday and found a farm house. He was hospitalized with burns over most of his body.

Officials of Corley Manufacturing Co., which is owned by Corley's father, said the passenger in the plane was Steve Holterbach, 27, also of Chattanooga.

The plane hit the mountain in the Laurel Ridge near the Seven Springs ski resort about 8 p.m. Monday. A farmer saw a bright flash. But police couldn't start a search until Tuesday morning because of the bad weather.

Corley told a nurse in the emergency room at Somerset Community Hospital that his side of the plane was blown out. He said he decided to stay by the wreckage because he didn't know where he was.

"About 5 a.m. he could see lights coming on in a house in the valley and he decided to get help," said Helen Rensner, the nurse.

"When he got down to the road, he said several cars passed him and wouldn't pick him up," she said. "I guess he looked so bad."

Duquesne Man Charged in Slaying

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A man whose telephone call led police to the discovery of the brutal slaying of a woman was charged with the murder Tuesday.

George J. Petrisko, 31, of nearby Duquesne was arraigned at the coroner's office in the death of his next-door neighbor, Mary S. Husar, 48, whose beaten and stabbed body was found in her blood splattered kitchen Nov. 26.

Petrisko phoned police the day of the slaying and reported he saw three men running near the Husar home and said one had thrown a rock at him.

Police then discovered the slaying, which one detective described as the most brutal he had seen in 25 years on the force.

Council Accepts Building As Gift to Community College

JAMESTOWN, N.Y.—Jamestown's city council last night accepted an apartment house located at 3 Lakeview ave. as a gift to Jamestown Community College.

The apartment building, which is currently assessed at $30,000, was offered by Gustaf Lawson, chairman of the Board of Directors, Blackstone Corp.

The out-going city council accepted the gift by a vote of 6-4, after first rejecting it in a tie vote of five to five. Councilmen Louis Peterson and John Illig were absent from last night's meeting.

Councilman Benjamin C. Spitale, Nicholas Schepis, Frank Smrek, and Joseph Spitale, joined Godfrey in voting "no," resulting in a five to five tie. Jamestown attorney Daniel J. Isaacson, representing Mr.

Congress Approves Increase In Postal Rates, Salaries

(C) N.Y. Times News Service WASHINGTON — Congress gave final approval Tuesday to bills increasing postal rates and granting pay raises to millions of federal employees and servicemen.

The pay raises will be retroactive to Oct. 1. The new postal rates will go into effect Jan. 8, after the Christmas mail rush.

The cost of stamps for first-class letters will rise from 5 to 6 cents; postcards, from 4 to 5 cents; airmail letters, 8 to 10 cents; and airmail postcards, 6 to 8 cents.

Swift action on both bills came as Congress continued to push hard for adjournment by this week-end.

Final clearance of the combination bill increasing postal rates and raising salaries of about 2 million federal civilian employees came in the Senate, on a vote of 72 to 0. The House had approved the bill Monday, 326 to 62.

The bill increasing military pay passed the House by voice vote after only 18 minutes of debate. The Senate had cleared it last Friday.

Johnson is expected to sign both bills into law within a day or two, so that the civilian workers and servicemen can receive their retroactive pay increases before Christmas.

The pay increases will be made in three stages: one, retroactive to Oct. 1; a second next July 1; and a third, July 1, 1969.

When fully effective, the three-stage pay increases are expected to cost $2.7 billion a year for civilian workers; and the same amount for the military.

The military pay raise was described by L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House armed services committee, as "a Christmas bonus from a grateful nation."

The 3.5 million service personnel would receive increases averaging about 5.6 per cent the first year. The pay of a beginning private would go from $90 to $95; while a four-star general with 30 years of service would receive a monthly base pay boost of from $2,001 to $2,113.

The pay increase for civilian workers would average about 6 per cent the first year for postal workers; 4.5 per cent for other federal employees.

The postal rate increases are expected to produce about $900 million in new revenue a year, when fully effective in 1970.

Aside from the increases in first-class and airmail rates, rates for second-class mail — including profit-making newspapers and magazines — will rise from 1 cent to 1.1 cents in January, to 1.2 cents in 1969 and to 1.3 cents in 1970.

The per-piece rates for third-class mail — bulk mail or unsolicited direct-mail advertising — would increase from 2.8 cents to 3.5 cents next month, and to 4 cents in 1969. However, for mailings of 250,000 or more pieces, the rate will be 3.8 cents.

The bill will also abolish the special four-cent low rate for greeting cards and other single-piece mailings entitled to third-class benefits.

In effect, this will make the cost of mailing an unsealed Christmas card the same as that of a first class letter—that is, six cents, starting next month.

Isaacson lauded other gifts made by Mr. Lawson to the other groups of the community. He said if the action of the council were allowed to stand, he would recommend that Mr. Lawson withdraw his offer. He then requested that the council reconsider its action.

Councilman Warren Erickson then called for a new vote, whereupon councilman Godfrey moved to table the motion. The tabling motion was defeated and the council then voted 6 to 4 in favor of accepting the gift.

Councilman Benjamin Spitale switched his vote in favor of accepting. Spitale said he favored selling the property and turning the proceeds over to the college.

The remainder of council's agenda was of a routine nature, with all ten resolutions gaining approval. The appointments of Pearl L. Cunningham, 1005 Lafayette st.; and Florence L. Hinson, 108 W. 11th st., to the Human Rights Commission, were also approved. Councilman Warren Erickson voted against the appointments because as he put it, "Neither was a member of the Magnuson team."

Under a new austerity drive, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's staff has been ordered to pinch dollars and pennies—even down to cancelling some newspaper subscriptions. The problem, as McNamara put it in a memorandum, is that Congress cut funds for operating his office by more than $2 million. This gives the defense chief $33.7 million to work with this fiscal year which began July 1.

"Although it will be difficult for us to operate within that amount, it is essential that we do so," McNamara said.

Accordingly, special measures were ordered into effect to curtail spending by the nearly 2,700-member civilian and military staff under McNamara's office.

Included were such broad steps as a freeze on hiring, a slowdown on overtime and a limitation on travel.

Others get down to fairly minute detail.

For example, it was decreed that "all subscriptions to periodicals and newspapers and the purchase of books and related items will be reviewed immediately, to determine those that are not essential and to initiate action to cancel such subscriptions."

Also, action was taken to make sure that staff members do not turn the government for such "personal-type expenses" as coffee breaks, luncheons and social hours in connection with nongovernment meetings they may attend.

The directive states that "if

An accident at 5:45 p.m. Tuesday resulted in an estimated $3,320 total damage to the four vehicles involved, according to Warren Borough police.

Fliers Realized Mohawk Plane In Bad Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — The captain and copilot of a Mohawk Airlines jet realized their ship was in serious trouble only three minutes before it crashed, killing all 34 aboard.

Their discovery was disclosed in a transcript prepared from the tape of the plane's cockpit voice recorder.

The transcript was made public Tuesday at a National Transportation Safety Board hearing. The crash occurred last June 23 near Blossburg, Pa., shortly after the British-built jet took off from Elmira, N. Y., for Washington, D.C. The flight had originated in Syracuse, N.Y.

Eyewitnesses who viewed the jet during its final minutes aloft reported to board investigators its abnormal flight behavior. One witness said he saw a large section drop from the plane's tail. He said the ship then nosed over and disappeared into a grove of trees.

The witness, Paul Chilson, Manfield, Pa., said he saw smoke and fire after the pieces came off the tail. A big mushroom of smoke and fire appeared after the plane struck the ground, he said.

About three minutes before the crash, First Officer Troy E. Rudesill who was at the controls, sensed that something was wrong.

New Policies To Bolster U.S. $ Agreed Upon

(C) N.Y. Times News Service LONDON — New policies to bolster the United States dollar by dampening the demand for gold were reportedly agreed upon by seven financial powers at weekend meetings in Basel, Switzerland. France did not participate in the undertaking.

The agreement was said here Tuesday to include bans on forward dealings for future sale or delivery and a ban on margin, or credit, transactions. Some alteration in the method of central bank purchases was also involved.

In Wednesday's edition, the Financial Times says the agreement is a ban on sales to central banks except in the London market and that all central bank purchases will be channeled to that market from now on.

The Times of London, however, refers to a prohibition on bids submitted by members of the International Gold Pool on behalf of other countries' central banks, with the effect that non-pool members will have to apply directly to the United States Treasury if they want to buy gold.

"We were quite startled to hear the flame of the torch reproducing the sounds from the tape recording," Babcock said Tuesday.

He said they are studying the discovery for possible use in evaluating the combustion efficiency of experimental liquid rocket engines by taking sound recordings from the superhot flames inside the combustion chamber of a rocket being fired.

"More down-to-earth applications might be musical fire. places or musical candles for the dinner table at home or in restaurants," Babcock added.

Cattaneo said, "By using a flame, we have introduced the world's only omnidirectional loud-speaker. This means that sounds are emitted from the flame in all directions with equal force. This could prove important to future sound systems in such places as auditoriums and movie houses where, at the present time, somebody is always being blasted out of his seat or can't hear well because of his position relative to the placement of loud-speakers."

The researchers found that flames can contain the elements of sound. This means, they explained, that an eavesdropper could pick up the words of a person sitting near a lighted candle, by focusing a known electronic device on the candle flame.

The scientists said interaction between sound and flames was first reported by John Leconte in 1858 and has been studied by many others since. But they said they apparently are the first to discover that flames can reproduce sound.

Ordered to Pinch Dollars Under Austerity Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under a new austerity drive, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's staff has been ordered to pinch dollars and pennies—even down to cancelling some newspaper subscriptions.

The problem, as McNamara put it in a memorandum, is that Congress cut funds for operating his office by more than $2 million. This gives the defense chief $33.7 million to work with this fiscal year which began July 1.

"Although it will be difficult for us to operate within that amount, it is essential that we do so," McNamara said.

Accordingly, special measures were ordered into effect to curtail spending by the nearly 2,700-member civilian and military staff under McNamara's office.

Included were such broad steps as a freeze on hiring, a slowdown on overtime and a limitation on travel.

Others get down to fairly minute detail.

For example, it was decreed that "all subscriptions to periodicals and newspapers and the purchase of books and related items will be reviewed immediately, to determine those that are not essential and to initiate action to cancel such subscriptions."

Also, action was taken to make sure that staff members do not turn the government for such "personal-type expenses" as coffee breaks, luncheons and social hours in connection with nongovernment meetings they may attend.

Reject 1st Proposal for Revision; Consider Plan for Judicial Reform

HARRISBURG (AP) — The president of Pennsylvania's Constitutional Convention rejected Tuesday the first proposal to revise the state's 93-year-old basic charter.

The president, Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick, ruled that the proposal to put a 150-day time limit on legislative sessions did not come within the convention's jurisdiction, which is limited to four specific areas of the Constitution.

The proposal, introduced from the floor Monday by Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, R-Bedford, and Senate Majority Whip Albert R. Pechan, R-Armstrong, also called for reducing the number of House seats from 203 to 200.

Broderick said his decision to throw out the proposal had been made after a thorough study and was in accordance with convention rules. He noted that the rules state no proposal shall be accepted for introduction by the president unless it conforms with the limitations to consider only four topics: the judiciary, legislative apportionment, taxation and state finance, and local government.

Six other proposals, including one to implement the Pennsylvania Bar Association's plan for judicial reform, were introduced Tuesday from the floor.

The key provisions of the proposal would abolish the minor judiciary system, replacing it with a system of community courts, and provide for the selection of judges on a nonpolitical basis through the creation of a statewide Judicial Nominating Commission.

Other proposals introduced would reduce the number of House seats to 150, based on senatorial districts; reduce the number of House seats to 100; and broaden the Constitution to permit all towns, boroughs, cities and townships to adopt a charter form of government.

Earlier, state Supreme Court Chief Justice John G. Bell, Jr., had endorsed the Bar Association's judicial reform plan, with the exception of the provision for a Judicial Nominating Commission.

The commission, under the association proposal, would be composed of one judge, three elected lawyers, and three laymen.

"I am convinced that this commission should be composed of judges and lawyers, with possibly one layman representative," Bell said.

However, Centre County Judge R. Paul Campbell took issue with Bell's contention that laymen should not have a strong voice in selecting judicial candidates.

"The thought I'd like to leave with you when you revise the judicial article is that the best source might not be the judiciary," Campbell said, adding, "We judges are peculiar. We believe that we are the best that have ever sat on the bench and it's going to be hard to convince many of us to change a system that has placed us in office."

Campbell is president of the Conference of State Trial Judges.

Robert P. Johnson, a former state senator and a justice of the peace in Lower Merion Township, urged the delegates to retain the minor judiciary system.

"The members of the minor judiciary are aware of the areas where the system needs serious review," Johnson said. "We respectfully submit that the present justice of the peace system should not be discarded, but rather a definite change should take place."

Johnson suggested that the minor judiciary's jurisdiction should be increased in both civil and criminal matters to help lighten case loads for county courts.

The number of justices of the peace, educational qualifications, and remunerations are matters that should be revised,

Johnson said.

State and local judges were guests of the convention Tuesday, which was set aside as "Judiciary Day."

Seek Leads To Holdup Killer

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) — Butler police questioned neighbors and relatives Tuesday to try to find clues that would lead them to the holdup killer of an 84-year-old man.

Albert Kummer, a retired butcher who lived alone most of the year, was found dead in his home Monday.

His face, bloody and bruised, was bound in a blanket and shirt, his arms had been handcuffed behind him and his right foot was manacled to a hinge on a wall.

Police said the safe had been busted open and said there was no money in it. They said they couldn't determine right away what had been taken. Kummer was believed to have been a coin collector.

Except for an occasional roomer, Kummer had lived alone in the house since his wife died in 1964.

Police went to the house Monday after a woman reported Kummer's back door was ajar and a window broken.

Up until the middle of the 16th century, comets were usually "explained" as "burning vapors" which had risen from "distant swamps."

Congress Only Can Raise Price of Gold; Will Not

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — Only Congress can raise the price of gold from its level of $35 an ounce and Congress will not do so, several leading members of the House agreed Tuesday.

The occasion was a brief speech by Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wisc., who has played a leading role in the House in international financial matters.

Reuss expressed his confidence "that the President means what he says when he says that we will not increase the price of gold."

"But I have word for the gold speculators. That word is this — even if he wanted to, the President of the United States cannot increase the price of gold. Under section 5 of the Bretton Woods Agreement Act of 1945, only Congress can do that. And this Congress is never going to increase the price of gold and thus reward the speculators for their attack on the dollar."

Three House leaders then rose to express their agreement. They were Reps. Carl Albert, D-Okla., the majority leader; Hale Boggs, D-La., the majority whip, and Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., the chairman of the ways and means committee.

Meanwhile, neither the Treasurer nor the Federal Reserve would comment on the discussions Sunday and Monday at Basel, Switzerland, among central bankers of the leading countries, at which Under Secretary of the Treasury Frederick L. Deming participated. Deming said in Basel Monday night that "we have agreed upon an even closer coordination of our efforts."

Reuss today called the renewed wave of gold buying in Europe "as serious as it is ridiculous." He said "if we go on like this, we invite a monetary panic."

A New Attraction

When the Northern Allegheny Conservation Association recently announced the acquisition of 44 acres of the Akeley swamp and detailed a plan to dedicate this unique area as the Thomas Jefferson Mahaffey Wetlands Conservation Area it put forth a proposal that will provide Warren County with far more than just a gold mine of conservation educational values. Through the development of this plot to its fullest potential a highly attractive recreational facility will come into being that should and will attract the attention of nature lovers throughout the tri-state area.

Some idea of just how attractive the Thomas Jefferson Mahaffey Wetlands Conservation Area will be to visitors can be had by comparing it to the similar, but entirely different, nature areas that have been established by the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy in other parts of the state.

At the close of the past season, the WPC reported that 119,000 had been counted at their various nature-oriented facilities.

At the Jennings Nature Reserve in Butler County attendance topped 13,000 by mid-November and more than half of these visitors participated in the guided nature tours of the grounds.

At Ferncliff Nature Reserve in Fayette County visitors numbered 33,458, and the Wildflower Reserve in Beaver County added another 23,000 to the total.

In addition, the annual report of the WPC states that an increase in attendance at each of their nature areas has been noticed with each passing year, with a large variation so far as age, background and residence is concerned. Much of the increase is credited to the efforts of various county and regional tourist promotions which have drawn many out-of-state visitors and increased interest among local citizens.

Officials of the Conservancy realize that basically most visitors come to the nature areas as a form of recreation, but they are convinced that many are instilled with the fundamentals and principles of conservation while they are there, and that this contact with nature at her best will serve to spark an appreciation of the natural heritage each enjoys.

So in general, the Warren area can expect much from the Thomas Jefferson Mahaffey Wetlands Conservation Areas. It will not only give many persons a reason for coming to the community, but will provide a form of recreational pleasure for those who visit us for other recreational pleasures. It will provide an outdoor classroom in which we can teach our children conservation through school co-operation. And if it does instill the thousands who visit it with a greater appreciation of the natural heritage that is theirs, that function alone will be worth the effort the Northern Allegheny Conservation Association must put into getting the project off the ground.

How 'Truth in Lending' Works

The "Truth in Lending" bill is again being pushed off to "next year." This time, though, it's almost a sure thing that in 1968 a Federal law finally will go on the books.

It is time, therefore, for an objective appraisal of what might be the impact of a Federal law which requires lenders to inform borrowers of the approximate annual finance charges on most credit transactions, both in annual percentages and in dollars and cents.

For provocative clues, I submit the experience of Massachusetts with its own state Truth in Lending law after a full year of operation. The details come from the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston and the Massachusetts Consumers' Council.

Since the beginning of 1967, retail sales have risen 3 per cent in Massachusetts, a large proportion involving credit, of course, versus a rise of only 1 per cent in all of New England. This rise has occurred despite a slower growth of personal income in Massachusetts as compared to all of New England.

Since December, 1966, immediately after the law went into effect in Massachusetts, there has been a 5 per cent rise in consumer credit at commercial banks and a whopping 43 per cent rise in consumer credit at savings banks. In contrast, consumer credit at finance companies and consumer loan companies has remained the same this year as in 1966, or dropped slightly.

The explanation, in the words of Dermot P. Shea, executive Secretary of the Massachusetts Consumers' Council, is that "commercial and savings banks are aggressively competing for consumer credit and advertising their rates in annual interest rates as well as dollars amounts. The finance companies and consumer loan companies have stopped this type of advertising because they cannot compete against the lower rates of the savings banks and commercial banks."

According to testimony of one major Massachusetts retailer who does half of his business on credit, "we encountered no problems of any consequence, either with our record-keeping or our customers as a result of this law. The law is informative for the consumer, and fair, workable and helpful to the businessman. It prevents 'tricky' selling of credit programs which tend to cover up the true interest cost and deceive consumers."

Also, according to the National Automobile Dealers Association, the law did not "hurt us in any way, shape or manner" and, in fact, it might "clean up the atmosphere in this area, particularly where loan sharks have hurt the ethical automobile dealer."

In brief, the evidence is that Massachusetts consumers now are comparison-shopping to get the most advantageous deal in credit. Misleading credit advertising has been virtually eliminated. Most of the vicious "easy" money lenders have been driven out of the state.

JIM BISHOP In Defense Of The Grouch

The world is full of sulky people. You will find them in the strangest places, like offices and homes, in bed, in submarines that refuse to surface, in slow cars infesting the speed lane, women who are complicated, as in: "You look great for your age"; students who flunk inhaling bananas; statesmen who are offered new little wars as trade-ins on old ones.

There are lots and lots of grouches. Some are professional grouches. My father has taken up a correspondence course in griping and growling, but it is a waste of money. He could teach. My mother could put on a pretty good grouch too. On Mondays, which was wash day, she always wore a damp napkin around her forehead and this was a bright warning to the rest of us to steer clear.

She was also good at not talking to my father. Three days was nothing. She sent messages to him through the kids, even though he was standing next to her with steam coming out of his ears. At these times, her attitude was nose-in-air, cool and aloof. I think she used to enjoy listening to him grind his teeth down. "Tell your father," she would say, "to stop grinding his teeth."

This made him breathe loud, even when he was sitting. I can work up a good grouch too. I do it as a contrast to my sunny disposition, so that the kids can appreciate my bright wit. Sometimes, I go into a grouch with such fervor that I can growl at my image while shaving.

To be a good grouch requires intelligence and energy. Chronic frustration helps. Start the morning with a bright smile and cold coffee. Slip a shoe on and discover, too late, a salad fork inside. Call a pal and get a busy signal. Get to the office on time and find out it's the Fourth of July. Step on the starter and listen to the battery step on you. Run home and learn that she forgot to order beer.

Once the mood is on you, smack a kid. It is wise to inquire about the size of the father first. Beat a crippled old lady to a seat in a bus. If she wins, crack one of her crutches. Abuse your wife. No use having her wear that martyr expression for nothing.

My grandpa Tier was a sterling grouch, but grandma was better. Once in awhile, Alonzo Tier would come home bagged in an open barouche. He drew up in front of the house like a cock-eyed funeral. Grandma was waiting. However, he always brought a quart of ice cream with him to keep her quiet while he hopped into bed.

It never worked. She ate the ice cream and then curled her tongue around some of the most contemptuous adjectives devised. For days, he ate out of a doggie dish. My brother John used to be able to toss a pretty sour mood at the world, but he has softened. Now he smiles when he's hurt.

I had a mother-in-law who was good for a week. She was a door slammer. She talked to nobody. Once she told the dog off: "Don't come whining to my room. You're as bad as the rest of them." He didn't have brains enough to bite her. He didn't know she had no teeth.

There was a silent uncle who slipped booze at a lively party until he reached a certain plateau. Then he would snarl: "What the hell are you looking at?" and all the guests chose up sides. We staged some pretty fair brannigans. I had a cousin in the military who didn't know what a grouch was until he attained the proper rank.

To sulk is not enough. One must know how to make one's loved ones mad at themselves. A hermit grouch is a man without a future. He is vitiating vile vapors in a vacuum. A good sulk was intended to be spawned. What trash a Christmas Carol would be without that good old persimmon, Scrooge. He makes the story.

Isn't it lovely to know that we have a President who, like the rest of us, often kicks the power lawn mower in his bare feet? And then there was Ike, who sat in a dark closet painting while his bald head looked like a pulsing Paracutin. No true grouch ceases to extol Harry S. Truman, who wrote letters expressing anatomical interest in kicking enemies in restricted areas. When Calvin Coolidge blew his cool, he put on an Indian Chief's feathers and called a cabinet meeting.

Go ahead. Get grouchy. Your happy smile is beginning to nauseate the people around you.

Puts Defense Ahead of Poor

WASHINGTON — As the slowest Congress in history stampedes toward Christmas adjournment it can't help but up some records unequalled even by Harry Truman's 80th Congress. Here are some of them:

It has taken more vacations than any other Congress in history.

It put across $15,000 for Congresswomen's beauty shop in fastest time in history.

It passed in record time the largest "peacetime" military bill in history. It even passed the draft act, effecting the lives of millions of young men, in a single evening, all because the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., wanted to dash off to the Paris air show.

It delayed until this week, almost twelve months, legislation effecting the poor, the elderly, and the education of our children.

As the last congressional week began, these bills were still being voted on. What went on behind the scenes regarding the education bill, effecting the lives of millions of children, illustrates the manner in which the 90th Congress has put politics ahead of people.

The backstage debate began at the Democratic Senate caucus last week called because some senators had complained that they weren't being notified when important votes were due. They seemed to forget that they draw salaries from the taxpayers to be on deck all the time without being notified when to walk in and vote.

At the caucus, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., manager of the 3-year education bill, raised objection to the amendment of Sen. Dick Russell, D-Ga., barring any cutoff of federal funds during the school year from schools failing to desegregate.

"I want to make it clear that if the Russell amendment is added to the bill," said Morse, "I shall vote against it as its manager, and I shall announce that the Democratic party has walked out on the civil rights decision of 1954."

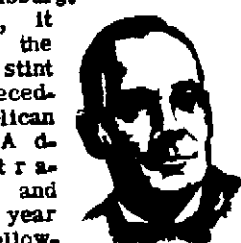

Sen. Russell demurred that he didn't realize the school bill was to be discussed at the Democratic caucus.

"I didn't know that there was any taboo on any subject once a caucus was called," replied Morse.

Later he and Sen. Russell, who respect each other despite occasional fireworks, got together in a private conference with Undersecretary of HEW Wilbur Cohen, Jack Forsythe of the Senate Labor committee, several Senate and HEW experts, together with Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi.

At the closed-door session, Undersecretary Cohen showed a draft letter which he said Secretary Gardner would send to the Senate clarifying the time schedule for cutting off federal funds if southern schools failed to desegregate.

MASON DENISON

Denison

Five Years at the Helm

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania Republicans, this month rounding out their fifth year at the helm on Capitol Hill following eight years of Democratic occupation, by now have managed to entrench themselves quite well once again on the mound of dirt dominating downtown Harrisburg.

However, it has taken the four-year stint of the preceding Republican administration of Raymond Phillip Shafer to bring the transition to the point it is today.

Much of the success of the transition must go back to that first year of the Shafer tenure — 1963 — which perhaps succinctly points up why Pennsylvania GOPsters today are regarded as modestly well entrenched.

If you compare that first year of Republican transition (1963) with that first year of Democratic transition back in 1955 when they heaved elephant riders off Capitol Hill following nearly two decades of Republican rule, the reason for GOP transition success today comes more into focus.

One of the basic reasons for the comparatively speedy switchover on the part of Republicans during that "first"

The letter was to state that there would be no funds cut off during the school year, namely between Sept. 1 and June 1, unless the school in question had been warned by March 1 that it was in violation and was given a hearing before Sept. 1.

Sen. Russell said he thought this was fair. But Mississippi's Stennis wouldn't agree. He wanted more time, acted as if big Jim Eastland, the other Mississippi senator, was looking over his shoulder.

Morse pled for immediate agreement, pointed out that the congressional session was nearing a close.

"You know I'll beat you on this if there's no filibuster and I can bring this to a vote," he said.

However, Stennis requested further delay and under the rules of Senate courtesy, one senator's request is ordinarily Senate law.

Last weekend's debate therefore was confined to an amendment by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., proposing to strike $15,000,000 to finance long-range educational planning by the states under the supervision of the federal government. The Republican senator from South Carolina considered the federal supervision an invasion of state's rights.

It was obvious that the Senate was going to defeat Thurmond's amendment; but Morse, as manager of the education bill, wanted a roll call vote so that in conference with the House of Representatives he could argue that the Senate had turned this down by a decisive margin.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, however, wanted a voice vote. He whispered to Morse that he had promised this to Thurmond.

"I have to take this bill to conference," Morse replied. "I want a roll call vote to strengthen my position in conference. I'm not going to yield."

"I want you to do this as a personal favor," whispered Mansfield.

Morse then acquiesced. Thurmond's amendment was defeated by a voice vote.

The South Carolina senator then proposed an amendment giving the states control of federal funds for research centers to deal with the education by deaf and blind children. Congresswoman Edith Green, Morse's colleague from Oregon, once a great crusader for education, now considered something of a saboteur, had pushed this through the House.

Morse battled against it in closed-door conferences.

"The states want the federal money, but no responsibility for living up to civil rights," he argued. "I would rather walk out of the Senate than walk out on civil rights."

"You go back home for Christmas without voting an education bill," he warned senators, "and you'll hear from the teachers and parents."

At one shot, orderly government must still continue.

He was quite right, of course. It was bad enough as it was in those days as the completely inexperienced were "infiltrated" among the veteran GOP officeholders during those first two years of the Leader Administration, with fumbblings and ball-dropping more the order of the day than anything else.

However by the time Mr. Leader's tenure ended—some four years and a deflating senatorial campaign later—the new political blood that infused Capitol Hill had become a fairly steady flow.

In fact, by the time Democratic successor David Leo Lawrence squatted in the plush red leather gubernatorial chair in 1959 the transition was in high gear.

Then came 1963 and the return of GOPsters to the Capitol Hill podium with their swift solidification and consolidation moves; their drawing upon "ready reserves."

Governor Shafer today, in this fifth year of GOP entrenchment finds himself considerably ahead of his counterpart on the opposite side of the political aisle—Democratic Governor Lawrence back in 1959.

In fact Republicans today after five years in the henhouse are regarded as being at the point Democrats had reached after eight years—from the entrenchment standpoint, that is.

"You just can't houseclean

LARRY STOTZ

House Warming

A house warming is an old American custom — perhaps far older than most people realize. It was an old custom among the Zuni Indians of New Mexico long before Columbus set sail for the New World.

Zuni style house warmings all take place in December when the giant Shalakos walk the earth and enter the new homes to bless them.

I had first heard of the Shalakos in December 1939. I at once persuaded my wife to go with me to witness a house warming, Indian style.

When we reached the Zuni Pueblo it was 9 o'clock at night. With no one to guide us, we were strictly on our own. We spotted a squaw, with a large pottery bowl balanced on her head, picking her way through the throng. By following her, we reached one of the new houses and were able to squeeze past the Indians who stood in the doorway. When we stepped over the threshold we left the white man's world behind us. Threading our way through the swarm of silent Indians we found a small open space in the middle of the room. Here we sat down on the rough pine floor among Zunis and visiting Navajos.

The room was a huge one with an open fireplace made of adobe mud. But no fire had been lighted. The only warmth had to come from the heat of the tightly packed crowd of nearly 200 Indians.

At the far end of the big room stood a Shalako. He had a huge head with eyes that stuck out and a wooden beak about fourteen inches long. A large crown of wild turkey feathers formed the head dress. Around the neck was a high collar of fine feathers. From the back of the head a horse hair mane hung about four feet down the back. The Shalako was cone-shaped and had no arms. The body sloped outward into a full skirt beautifully woven with intricate designs. The skirt was stretched tightly around a stiff framework.

We sat patiently in a cramped position on the hard, cold floor from 9:30 P.M. until 1:00 A.M. before the Shalako came to life. In the long interval, selected Indian guests were fed Indian bread, mutton and melons served from beautifully decorated pottery bowls by Zuni squaws. The guests ate with their fingers in leisurely fashion.

A Navajo squaw with a papoose tightly bound in its wooden cradle board parked her baby on my wife's lap for most of the evening.

The actions of the Zuni squaws that night convinced me that they were the undisputed bosses in this matriarchal society. Some of them were so enormous that they could have had their own way through sheer brute force.

At 1:00 A.M. all the chosen guests had been fed and the action started when a group of old men appeared carrying cottonwood drums and gourd rattles. The throb of the drums and the rattle of the gourds was accompanied by a wild chant that was to continue without interruption for the next hour.

A dancer, his face painted bright green and with a white buckskin head dress stepped out onto the floor. His upper body was covered with a dart-tunic decorated with colored cloths and sashes. His tight fitting pants left his legs bare except for the silver bells that tinkled as he performed his jerky dance. In one hand he carried a long yucca stem, and in the other a wild turkey feather.

After his solo dance, six old men crowded around the Shalako and screened it with blankets while an Indian crawled inside the frame. The top of the framework rested on his shoulders and the head towered five feet above him. He had to step carefully to keep his balance. In addition to carrying the Shalako, he had to manipulate the beak-like mouth with strings while uttering a piercing cry to accompany the loud click of the beak as it snapped shut.

Slowly the Shalako rose up from behind the screen of blankets until it had reached its full height and nearly scraped the ceiling. Then it began to move majestically across the floor. The little brown legs of the Indian seemed out of proportion to the rest of the giant figure.

When the Shalako, with piercing cries and snapping beak, leaned forward and charged the crowd on a instinctively searched for an escape route. But there was none.

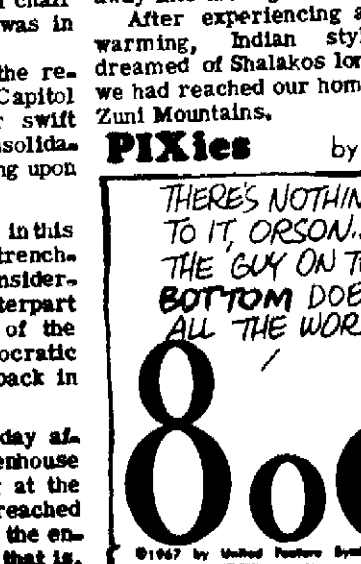

Then far off in the night we heard the familiar cry of a coyote. The sound came closer and closer until it was just outside the doorway. The crowd at the entrance gave way as three mudheads burst into the room. Each wore a wooden mask that covered the entire head. There were round holes for eyes, and the round beak-like nose was a foot long. The mudheads were naked from the waist up, but they wore gaily colored hand-woven kilts and colorful deer-skin moccasins. Each carried a long willow stick in the right hand. Their high pitched wailing howls were perfect imitations of the lonesome cry of the coyote.

At the climax of the ceremony all the dancers were prancing around to the rhythm of the drums, the gourd rattles, and the chanting of the old men. Then suddenly it was over. The crowd melted noiselessly away into the night.

After experiencing a house warming, Indian style, we dreamed of Shalakos long after we had reached our home in the Zuni Mountains.

CommonMarketMayFace Crisis Over Britain

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
BRUSSELS—Jean Rey, president of the Common Market's executive commission, warned Tuesday that a "grave crisis" could erupt both inside and outside the six-nation community if the member states fail to agree on how to proceed with Britain's application for membership.

Policemen Need Power To Frisk

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON — Several members of the Supreme Court expressed concern Tuesday for the safety of the nation's policemen if they are not granted the power to "frisk" dangerous-looking suspects.

The remarks came as the court grappled for the second day with the conflict of practical and constitutional values presented by the issue of whether police officers may stop and frisk persons "on suspicion."

This week's arguments represent the first time that the Supreme Court has dealt with this question.

Two defense lawyers, Robert Stuart Friedman of White Plains, N.Y., and Louis Stokes of Cleveland, an older brother of Mayor Carl Stokes of Cleveland, insisted that to allow policemen to stop and frisk suspicious persons would undermine traditional constitutional guarantees against unreasonable search and seizures.

Both attorneys contended that police cannot constitutionally exercise any power over a citizen unless there is probable cause to believe that a crime has been committed and that the suspect did it.

"But if the police officer has probable cause to believe that he's in danger, isn't there a right of self-preservation" to frisk the suspect, Chief Justice Earl Warren asked. Justices Hugo L. Black and Potter Stewart also suggested that policemen must have power to protect themselves and to demand answers from suspects in the course of criminal investigations.

Tuesday's arguments involved two appeals from New York, where the controversial 1965 "stop and frisk" law is under constitutional attack, and one from Ohio, where the courts permit the practice, although it is not specifically authorized by statute.

Justices Byron R. White and William J. Brennan Jr. hinted that the court may dispose of the two New York cases without ruling on the new law. One of the cases is thought to be possibly moot because the defendant served his sentence before the Kings County district attorney conceded the conviction was illegal. Both justices suggested that the search in the second appeal might have been valid without reference to the stop and frisk law.

Michael Juviler, an assistant to District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of New York County, conceded that the Supreme Court would be announcing a new rule if it sanctioned stops and frisks without probable cause. But he insisted that this has been the law in fact for years because it has been the practice of all big-city police forces.

He reasoned that police must have the power to detain and question suspects until their stories are verified. If the officer feels he is in danger, he should have the right to pat down the suspect's clothing for weapons.

Juviler argued that if such a frisk turns up weapons or other illegal items, such as burglar tools, these should be admissible in evidence.

Several justices remarked that the court might permit the use in court of weapons turned up by frisks, but they implied that the court might draw the line there and rule out the use of other evidence, so that the police would not be tempted to frisk at large in search of incriminating items.

Drake Well Museum Has New Display

TITUSVILLE — Drake Well Museum has a new display that brings the past right before a person's eyes.

Curator Alan Perkins has placed in a display case many of the objects dug up near the Danforth House at Pithole this summer. A Youth Corps group did the digging and what they found is interesting. The Danforth was one of the better hotels.

Buttons, medicine bottles, dishes, hotel room key tags and a horseshoe are just some of the things the amateur archeologists came up with.

The display is in the library and will later be placed in a case in the main exhibit room.

could erupt both inside and outside the six-nation community if the member states fail to agree on how to proceed with Britain's application for membership.

Rey said that such a crisis would be a "frightful political absurdity at this moment when European unity more than ever is indispensable."

The commission president's dramatic statement, which included a formal offer to conciliate between France and the supporters of Britain, was read into the minutes of a ministerial council meeting of the community.

The statement reflected the concern of the European economic community's technocrats and many others in Europe over the confrontation slated for next Monday when France once again meets her five partners to discuss British membership.

Rey's declaration was accompanied by a long statement from Raymond Barre, vice president of the commission in charge of economic and financial affairs, on the effects of the recent devaluation of the pound.

Barre said that he devaluing the pound the British had begun to meet one of the essential conditions for entry into the community-equilibrium in her balance of payments. But he warned that the British still have to make their devaluation work—that is, succeed now in building up balance of payments surpluses.

Seneca Indians May Seek Injunction

JIMBERTOWN, N.Y. — The possibility of seeking a court injunction to block construction of a flood control system for use of Seneca land for the project is being mulled by the Indians.

The Seneca Council authorized legal counsel Arthur Lazarus to seek such an injunction during a weekend meeting. However, Calvin John, Nation president, said he will wait for a time before instructing Lazarus to begin legal action.

It was explained by John that although the Army Corps of Engineers flood project is to be built entirely on Indian land, no negotiations with the Senecas have been held.

The New York State Department of Transportation, which is acquiring land, is responsible for opening such negotiations, the Seneca president pointed out.

Corry Couple Frightens Off Assailant

CORRY—A local man and his wife frightened off an assailant Sunday night saving a woman from what could have been a severe beating, police said Monday.

The victim signed a complaint against Thomas L. Kuss of Lindsey Hollow Road, charging him with assault and battery.

Police said the Corry couple, who asked their names be withheld, were walking along North Center street when a man approached them and said a man was beating a woman in a nearby alleyway.

The husband ran into the alley and the man later identified by the victim as Kuss fled. The couple took the victim, Mrs. Ida Jean Trokowski, also of Lindsey Hollow Road, to the police station.

Taken to Alderman Marie Ottaway's office, Mrs. Trokowski signed the complaint and was taken to her grandmother's home in Corry.

Erie Men Split Costs, Bills In Wake of Brawl in Corry

CORRY — A pair of Erie men who work in Cleveland but play in Corry, Sunday agreed to split $105 in fines, costs, damage, hospital and doctor bills which accumulated in the wake of a brawl here early Sunday morning.

Pleading guilty to charges of disorderly conduct and waiving hearings in their cases were Kenneth Jones, 43 and Gerald Jurino, 29.

Following arraignment the two paid $80 of the total and agreed to pay the balance by the end of this week.

Events leading up to the charges began at 2:30 a. m. when the fire department received a call a resuscitator was needed. When the emergency truck arrived and found Jones lying on the street covered with blood, they decided it was a case for an ambulance and police.

Jones was taken to Corry Memorial Hospital for treatment. Police said David Applebee, 23, RD 1, Clymer, his wife, father and mother, left a tavern at closing time and started across the street to their car. Following behind the Applebees were Jones and Jurino.

Investigating police officers said Jones made a remark to Applebee and the latter turned around and approached Jones. A melee started in which Applebee allegedly thrashed Jones, knocking him unconscious and leaving the Erie man sprawled on the pavement.

Witnesses told police Jurino then broke the antenna off Applebee's car, using it as a whip to beat off the Applebees. From somewhere he acquired a hammer, police said, and clouted Applebee on the back of the head.

The Clymer man was treated at the hospital for a scalp laceration and released.

The ambulance took Jones to the hospital emergency room where he refused treatment, police said, and started a ruckus. Jurino then joined in the melee with ambulance personnel and hospital employees, including a doctor.

Police were called to straighten out this affair and charges against the two Erie men resulted from the hospital hassle. These costs were totaled up: ambulance for Jones, $20; doctor's fee, $25; Applebee's car antenna, $15; fines, $20; court costs, $18 and hospital emergency room charges, $7.

LBJ Rejects Small Pocketbook Approach to Nation's Problems

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — President Johnson moved through the Southland Monday morning at the fearful and the doubters and rejecting any idea of a small pocketbook approach to education, space or other national programs and problems. Johnson was off and winging in the style of a political campaigner before he barely got started on his first speech of the day—at Killean, Tex.

He fired away at complainers, critics and doubters. He counted that they were trying to tear down vital American programs the nation, he said, can afford.

"With your stomachs full," he inquired sarcastically, "has it pressed your heart out of position where it no longer cares?" Soldiers in uniform from nearby Ft. Hood mingled with the civilian students. Out in the crowd, three demonstrators began shouting and waving placards. Soldiers and students swarmed to them and tore up their signs.

Johnson told an audience of thousands at a new Texas college that "progress in America can never be too expensive."

And at a vast space material assembly near New Orleans, he said that in this field: "We have started a journey from which there can be no turning back."

While $20 billion has gone into the space program in 10 years, Johnson said, the value of a successful space program may be millions of times greater than that in terms of helping industry, universities and the nation to develop the knowledge "we need to survive in the 20th Century."

The President left his LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex., in mid-morning by helicopter and landed on the campus of Central Texas College at Killean, where topsoil still is being spread. Johnson dedicated the college as typical of the nation's growth and progress and abundance of opportunity.

He called himself an optimist about America and said that: "I cannot share the gloom of those who believe that our problems are too big to solve and our pocketbook too small to help."

Before leaving the college Johnson motored to the Army hospital at nearby Ft. Hood, where some wounded veterans of the Vietnam War are patients, and presented Purple Hearts to two of them.

From Ft. Hood, Johnson took the big presidential jet to New Orleans and another helicopter to the Michoud assembly facility of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center.

He took a look at a Saturn I booster and then made a speech at a Saturn V site.

"We have started a journey from which there can be no turning back."

Friday Bonus Day For Area Hunters

HARRISBURG (AP) — Bad weather brought a bonus for antlerless deer hunters Tuesday. The Game Commission announced a one-day extension, statewide, of the season in which the white tails may be hunted this week. The bonus day will be Friday.

In announcing the extension, Executive Director Glenn L. Bowers of the commission said: "In order to bring about a desired and adequate harvest of white tails, the Game Commission has authorized an additional day for antlerless deer hunting for this Friday, Dec. 15. With favorable weather conditions, we anticipate a good turnout of hunters."

Saturday will be the last day of the season for statewide hunting. The original season provided for three days of hunting, statewide, Monday, Tuesday, and Saturday. Under the new order, Friday has been added.

In specified areas, six days of antlerless hunting are available this week, Monday through Saturday. The areas are all of Chester, Delaware and Montgomery counties, and portions of Berks and Bucks.

Monday's opening day kill was less than 20,000 deer, almost one-third less than the first-day harvest of 29,000 in the 1966 season. Game officials said the weather Monday was extremely unfavorable for hunting.

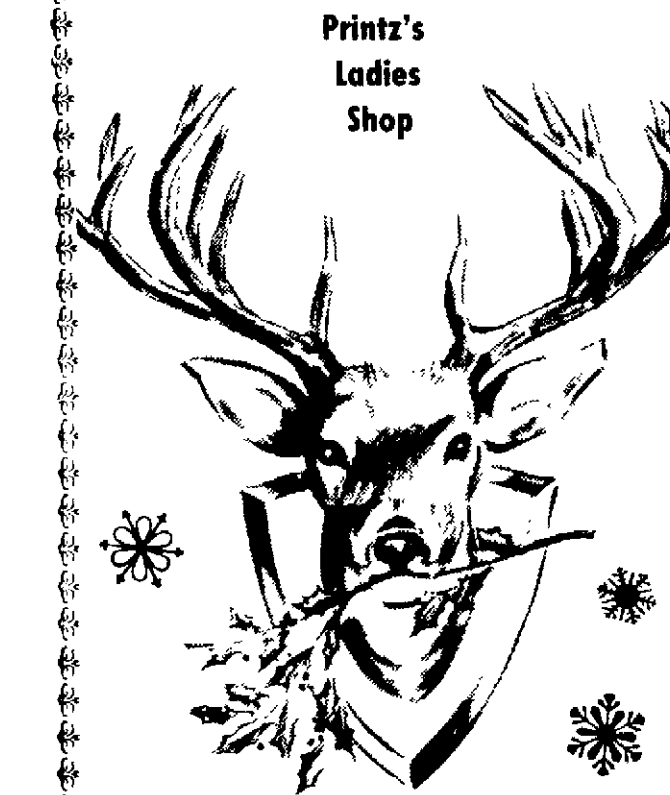

Meanwhile, it was reported at Emporium that five bull elk had been found slain in the woods. Game officials here said it was not unusual for one or two of these animals to be mistaken for a deer during the season, but five was an exceptional number.

Elk are protected the year around, and killing one entails a fine of $200.

Sheffield Cagers, Ike Matmen Post Wins

Wolverines Humble Knight Five 104-78

By HARRY SMITH
SHEFFIELD — Eisenhower's 6-7 Bob Burlingame scored 37 points here last night, but if it hurt the Sheffield Wolverines, it was only to their pride, as they pummeled the Knights 104-78 for their third straight victory of the season.

Meeting a county opponent for the first time this year, home-standing Sheffield racked up its second 100-plus point win in five days. Last Friday the Wolverines set a school scoring record in humbling Bradford Central 115-57.

Burlingame's 37 was offset by the scoring of Wayne Swanson (31), Jeff Scalise (29) and Rob Hart (21). For Swanson it was his second 30-plus effort in the three SHS games.

Sheffield shooting fell below par; the Wolverines hitting on 42 of 97 shots from the floor. Eisenhower connected on 33 of 69. At the foul line the Orange and Black outshot Eisenhower 20 to 10; Sheffield in 28 attempts; the Knights in 30.

Under the boards, Jeff Scalise pulled off 15 rebounds and Swanson 12. Rob Hart made eight of the team's 24 steals, and Hart and Swanson both made six assists.

Burlingame's omnipresence dazzled the Wolverines through half of the first period, but the effect of the tallest player Sheffield has seen so far this year faded as the Wolverine offense picked up steam.

Sheffield hit the 100 mark with 1:48 left in the fourth period on a layup by Scalise, nearly a minute after the Wolverines' preceding bucket, a layup by Swanson.

Sheffield Coach Nick Creola went to his reserves early. The entire second team was in for nearly half of the third period, and again late in the fourth.

With sub Ken Blum in and Swanson out late in the first period, Eisenhower closed a 25-8 margin to 25-14. And with 3:19 showing in the third, and the Sheffield second-stringers in, Eisenhower matched the Wolverines point-for-point until the end of the frame.

Sheffield ball-handling was perhaps at its slickest last night, at times touching on the razzle-dazzle — blind passes, backhand passes, and even over-the-head backward passes.

Again it was a fast-breaking offense, and dog-like pressing defense keeping the Wolverines far ahead. The pinnacle of Wolverine defense was a maneuver by Rob Hart in the third quarter. After stealing a loose ball and driving for a score, Hart deflected the ensuing in-bound pass through the hoop. Burlingame, Eisenhower's leading scorer both last year and this year, towered over the basket on defense, blocking two shots by Swanson in the first period and several by Scalise later on.

On offense, Burlingame relied on repeated rebound shots directly beneath the bucket. He was backed up by 19 points from Tim Allen, hitting on 15 and 20 foot jumpers.

Sheffield didn't hit an unsurmountable lead until midway through the second period, when the Wolverines went from 31-19 to 54-29 at the halftime buzzer.

The Sheffield Jayvees, coached by Tom Miller, set the mood for the varsity victory with a 64-41 win in the preliminary. Dave Morrison scored 23 points and teammate Dave Rounds put up 15 for Sheffield. Bob North tallied 20 for Eisenhower.

Now winless in three starts, Eisenhower is off until Dec. 22, when the Knights host the Alumn. Sheffield is back at home again this Friday against East Forest, loser to Johnsonburg, and Clarion-Limestone.

Trophies and dash plaques will be awarded.

RIDGWAY ELKERS WIN FIRST

Eagles Triumph, 69-65; Off-Campus Cagers Fall

Youngsville snapped a two-game losing streak, but Warren Area High School gym, a hot-shooting Venango Campus team whipped EOC, 100-77.

An area contest saw Ridgway notch its first victory of the season. The Elkers tripped St. Marys, 66-60.

At Cochranton, the Eagles got off to a fast start, then were outscored by the Cardinals in both the third and fourth quarters before coming away with their third triumph against as many defeats.

Youngsville took a 17-9 lead after one quarter and continued to dominate the host team in the second stanza, enjoying a 37-22 advantage at intermission.

The Cardinals took over in the third period, outscoring the Eagles by 24 to 15 to narrow the gap to six points, 52-46. The host team pumped in 19 in the final eight minutes, but Youngsville hit for 17 to hold on to the victory.

Denny Walton turned in another fine game for the Red & White, taking scoring honors with 24 points. Three other Eagles also found double figures. Gary Wood scored 17, Tom Burlingame 13, and George Nelson 12.

Jeff Pederson led the Cardinals with 23 points.

Youngsville converted 15 of 23 shots and Cochranton made in the same number in one less attempt.

The Eagle junior varsity fell in the preliminary, 40-28. The story in the college tilt at WAHS was the visiting PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies announced Monday the signing of former major leaguer Al Wid-mar as pitching coach for the 1968 National League baseball season.

Widmar, elevated from minor league pitching instructor in the Phillies' system, succeeds Harry Anderson, who left to manage the Pittsburgh Pirates.

HIGH K-NIGHT

Sheffield defenders Rick Grubbs (14) and Mark McGuire (24) are dwarfed by Eisenhower's 6-7 Bob Burlingame. The Knights' leading scorer dumped in 37 points last night, but all in vain, as home-standing Sheffield raced to its third straight victory, 104-78. Wayne Swanson (30) led Wolverine scoring with 31 points. Jeff Scalise put up 29, and Rob Hart 21. See Story at left. (Photo by Mahan)

Eagles Routed 57-3 On Eisenhower Mats

By DAN PRATZ
LANDER — An 8-7 decision in the first match gave Youngsville its only points here last night as their cross-county rivals, the Eisenhower Knights, nearly pulled off a shutout by slaughtering the Eagles 57-3 in the first wrestling contest ever held between the two schools. The Knights picked up eight pins in their romp over the Eagles, five coming in the first period.

The "grit" to the Eagles came at 95-pounds where Bob Sedlak wrestled Ralph Spicer to a 8-7 decision. Spicer picked up three reversals, and a riding time point, but Sedlak gained the upper hand when he placed the Knight in a predicament in the second period.

Only two decisions came the Knights' way, both in the lower weights. A 2-1 decision awarded to Gary Gage over Max Collins on riding time was the result of the 112 class, and at 127 Paul Cathcart collected 12 points against Phil Holcomb's two.

Owen Williams captured the first points for the Knights in the match as he pinned Ed Coons to the mat in 56 seconds. Williams now has compiled a record of four pins, three of them first period conquests.

Pete Block, coming from 95 pounds last year to the 120 pound class this season, received his first points of the year as he floored Eagle Bob Thompson at 49 seconds into the second period.

Knight Gary Dalrymple nailed his first opponent of the year as he collected an early first period pin over John Etter in the 133 class. Dalrymple netted a fast takedown and then pulled Etter to the mat in 1:17.

In the 138 class Andy Bosko moved just a little faster than Dalrymple in flooring his opponent. Bosko nailed Larry Maynard to the mat in the first period with 57 seconds showing on the clock.

A pin by Dave Burnett over Ed Lawrence in 1:36 moved his record to three wins, one loss.

Also collecting his first points in a varsity match last night was Dave Jones. Jones had been moved up to varsity to replace Jim Martin who was injured in the opening match with Union City. A pin by Jones over Dave Benedict was well-earned as the Knight grappler squeezed Benedict to the mat with only 30 seconds left in the final period.

The last first period pin of the evening came from Harry Critzer at 1:55 as he pinned Eagle John Anthony with just two seconds left on the clock.

The easiest match of the evening came at 180 as Knight Bob Hagberg merely stepped to the middle of the mat to have his hand raised in a forfeit.

The final match of the evening brought the fans to their feet as two year veteran Tim Martin collected the first points of his career by pressing John Campbell to the mat in 3:15. Martin had the advantage in the final period as he led 4-0, scoring on a takedown in the first period and a reversal in the second.

The junior varsity Knights were as successful as their big brothers as they compiled a 4-5-11 victory against the Little Eagles. The Knights will rest now for a few days as they prepare themselves for the Holiday Tournament at Randolph, N.Y. Youngsville is back in action next Monday at Sunthport.

95 — Bob Sedlak (Y) dec. Ralph Spicer (E), 8-7.

103 — Owen Williams (E) pinned Ed Coons (Y), 1:56.

112 — Gary Gage (E) dec. Max Collins (Y), 2-1.

120 — Pete Block (E) pinned Bob Thompson (Y), 2:49.

127 — Paul Cathcart (E) dec. Phil Holcomb (Y), 12-2.

133 — Gary Dalrymple (E) pinned John Etter (Y), 1:17.

138 — Andy Bosko (E) pinned Larry Maynard (Y), 1:03.

145 — Dave Burnett (E) pinned Ed Lawrence (Y), 1:36.

154 — Dave Jones (E) pinned Dave Benedict (Y), 5:30.

165 — Harry Critzer (E) pinned John Anthony (Y), 1:58.

180 — Bob Hagberg won by forfeit.

Hyv — Tim Martin (E) pinned John Campbell (Y), 3:15.

Hawks Edge Knicks; 76ers Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Celebrated rookie Bill Bradley, making his first pro start for New York, put on a remarkably poised performance but St. Louis veteran Lenny Wilkens led the Hawks from an 18-point deficit to a 145-142 double overtime victory over the Knickerbockers Tuesday night in the nightcap of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Hal Greer led a Philadelphia first-quarter surge by scoring 12 of his 38 points as the 76ers beat the Seattle SuperSonics 118-107 in the first game.

Wilkins stole Bradley's thunder in the second game by scoring 13 of his 33 points in the two overtime periods.

Bradley, the former Princeton All-American who was playing in only his second NBA game since getting out of the service, hit on 10 of 16 field goal attempts, including eight in a row, handed out seven assists, came up with three steals and forced several St. Louis turnovers. The $500,000 rookie finished with 23 points, fouling out in the second overtime after 47 minutes of action.

Trailing 104-86 with about seven minutes remaining in regulation play, the Hawks roared back behind a full-court press and the shooting of Wilkins' Bill Bridges and Joe Caldwell. Wilkins sent the game into overtime by scoring a hook shot with 10 seconds left to tie it at 124.

St. Louis opened up a 134-130 lead in the first extra period but New York tied it at 134-134 on baskets by Bradley and Cazzie Russell, the latter with six seconds remaining.

Wilkins hit five points and Zelmo Beaty two in the second overtime, giving St. Louis a 141-134 lead and clinching the victory.

Caldwell scored 27 points and Bridges and Paul Silas added 24 each for the Hawks. Dick Barnett and Walt Bellamy netted 25 apiece and Russell got 24 for the Knicks.

The first-game victory moved the 76ers into first place in the Eastern Division, one game ahead of idle Boston.

Leading 37-36 early in the second period, Philadelphia moved to a 51-43 lead as Greer hit five field goals and two foul shots and passed to Walt Chamberlain for another basket in little over three minutes. Seattle never caught up.

Billy Cunningham added 21 points and Chet Walker 17 for Philadelphia. Al Tucker led Seattle with 27.

COLT'S UNITAS QUARTERBACK PICK

Packers Dominate AP's '67 NFL All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Although the Baltimore Colts remain the only unbeaten team in the National Football League with one game to play, the Green Bay Packers again dominated the NFL All-Star team selected for The Associated Press. The selection by a committee of sports writers and sportscasters with three from each of the 16 league cities, was announced Tuesday.

Green Bay, the defending champion, placed six men on the team, two on offense and four on defense. The Dallas Cowboys, the team the Packers defeated a year ago for the title, put four players on the first team and Baltimore placed three.

Only five repeaters from the 1966 offensive team made the club but eight of the defensive players did it again. Nine clubs were represented, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, New Orleans, San Francisco, Detroit and Minnesota did not have a first team player.

John Unitas, the old pro who has kept the Colts on the unbeaten path, displaced Green Bay's Bart Starr as the quarterback. Two of his three All-Star receivers did not make the first club last year. They are Charley Taylor of Washington at split end and Willie Richardson of the Colts at flanker. John Mackey of Baltimore repeated at tight end.

The explosive running back pair of Gale Sayers of the Chicago Bears and Leroy Kelly of the Cleveland Browns once again were named. This year the voters were asked to pick two running backs, instead of the old halfback and fullback selections.

Forrest Gregg and Jerry Kramer, veteran Packers interior linemen, made it again. Gregg's mate at tackle is Ralph Neely of Dallas. Neely replaced Philadelphia's Bob Brown, who was out with injuries in the last part of the season.

Kramer and Gene Hickerson of Cleveland were the guards. Hickerson moved into the position held last year by San Francisco's John Thomas, another injury victim.

Bob DeMarco of St. Louis won the center job over Mick Tingelhoff of Minnesota, first team last year.

The same front four was picked again on defense with Dave "Deacon" Jones and Merlin Olsen of the Los Angeles Rams Fearsome Foursome again joined by Willie Davis of Green Bay and Bob Lilly of Dallas. Jones and Olsen are the ends and Davis and Lilly the tackles.

Tommy Nobis, Atlanta's brilliant second year man, took over the middle linebacker job from the Packers' Ray Nitschke. Dave Robinson of the Packers ousted teammate Lee Roy Caffey from one corner linebacker job and Chuck Howley of Dallas was named again for the other job.

In the defensive backfield, Bob Jeter of Green Bay was picked for one corner job over teammate Herb Adderley. The repeaters were Cornell Green of Dallas at the other corner and Willie Wood of Green Bay and Larry Wilson of St. Louis at the safety jobs. Both are free safeties.

Shula Puts in 'New Wrinkles' for Rams

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts start playing Sunday what Coach Don Shula describes as "in effect sudden death" and therefore he "will come up with a few new wrinkles" for the Los Angeles Rams.

"But the thing that is going to win," Shula added Tuesday, "is doing what we know how to do and not make any mistakes."

It has been good enough for the Colts to go unbeaten, winning 11 and tying two. Still, they can't afford to lose even one beginning Sunday to remain in contention for the National Football League championship.

A loss to Los Angeles would leave them only runner-up in a four-team Coastal Division. It would be the end of the season for the Colts with an 11-1-2 record.

The survivor of the Baltimore-Los Angeles game—a tie would be sufficient for the Colts—next takes on Green Bay, which already has lost three, for the Western Conference title.

Next step is the NFL championship against Dallas or Cleveland, both of which have lost four games.

Asked in an interview to give his opinion on how the Colts have come this far without a defeat, Shula's first answer was

"I am proud of the way they have responded. They seem to play as good as they have to play."

Sometimes, this has brought criticism from the more demanding who snorted at lack of a running star, a retired named Alex Hawkins at end and knocked the defense as being below such as the Fearsome Four of Los Angeles.

"Garbage can halfback" was the epithet flung by defensive tackle Alex Karras at Tom Matte after the Colts scored his second touchdown to help beat Detroit 41-7.

"The way they hustled and hung together," was another reason given by Shula in his appraisal.

"I think John Unitas has had a great year. All the players have a lot of faith in him and know he's going to get the job done."

"But each of them also has a lot of pride and contributes."

Asked to summarize the reason for success of the Rams who have lost only once, Shula replied "offensive balance, a strong passing game, good pass protection and a solid running game."

"If I were to pinpoint players, I would say quarterback Roman Gabriel's fine year, Jack Snow's good catches and Les Josephson's running."

Shula also observed that the Rams "come up with some real big plays," citing their own 24-24 tie in Baltimore Oct. 15. Snow made a heading diving catch of a pass for a 53-yard touchdown and won a wrestling match with Bob Boyd to score another on an 80-yard pass and run.

In advance of their physical contact practices Wednesday and Thursday, Shula said only two Colts were in questionable condition. Defensive back Lenny Lyles, who sat out last Sunday, has a sprained right ankle and end Raymond Berry has a stiff neck.

South Team Listed for Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The players on the North team competing in the Senior Bowl will find it one of the toughest games they've played all year.

The North squad, which hasn't been announced, will face a talented group of all-stars Jan. 6.

Players selected for the South squad Tuesday include four first team All-Americans and five second string All-Americans.

On the offense, it will be Alabama end Dennis Homan and Tennessee center Bob Johnson from the first team. Defensive linemen Greg Pipes of Baylor and North Carolina State's Dennis Byrd also will represent the first team.

Second team stars taking part for the South are Kim Hammond, Florida State quarterback; Harry Olszewski, Clemson lineman; John Boynton, Tennessee lineman; and linebackers Fred Carr of Texas-El Paso and D. D. Lewis of Mississippi State.

Hammond, who was No. 2 in the nation in total offense, will be aided at the helm by Tennessee's Dewey Warren, who sparked the Volunteers to a Southeastern Conference championship this year.

Besides Homan, Freddie Hyatt of Auburn, Bob Goodridge of Vanderbilt and Ken Barefoot of Virginia Tech will be the pass receivers. This season, the four amassed 193 pass receptions among them.

Hank Stram, coach of the Kansas City Chiefs, will use running backs Ronnie Jenkins of Georgia, Jim Hagle of Southern Methodist and Bobby Duhon of Tulane on his Dixie squad.

The huge offensive line includes Boynton, 223; Olszewski, 240; Maurice Moorman of Texas A & M, 241; and Ernie Ruple of Arkansas, 250. Center Forrest Blue of Auburn will split the chores with Johnson.

Mississippi's Jimmy Keyes, who kicked 53 of 55 extra points in three seasons, will help at the linebacking slot along with Tommy Roussel of Southern Mississippi. Dan Sartin of Mississippi and Marvin Upshaw of Trinity University will be the defensive linemen.

Defensive backs are Alabama's Bobby Johnson, Grambling's Robert Atkins, Duke's Andy Beath and Texas A & T's James Hill.

The North squad, which will be announced later this week, will be coached by Mike Holovak of the Boston Patriots.

The South is the header in the series 11-6-1.

Erie Youth Tidioute's Buck Champ

A 12-year-old boy on his first deer hunting trip won the 1967 Tidioute Merchants Buck Contest. He is Raymond Caldwell, of 817 Wescher ave., Erie.

The lad was hunting with members of his family near McGraw Corners, on the Tidioute-Enterprise road when he brought down his buck, which had nine points and a 18½-inch antler spread. The first prize was $50.

Ernest Tipton, RD 3, Edinboro, won second place with a buck having an antler spread of 18½ inches. He received a check for $25, as did the third place winner, Peter Mathas, 5909 Fredanna st., Pittsburgh 7, whose buck had an antler spread of 17½.

Thirty bucks were registered and measured in the contest. Among them were one six-point, two seven-points, 13 eight-points and the remainder ranged from nine to 13 points.

The contest was sponsored by the following Tidioute area business places: Wolf's Head Service Station, Shanley's Red & White Store, McKown Barber-shop, Goodwin's Variety Store, Allen's Camera Shop, C & M Market, Miller's Cafe, Latimer's Esso Station, and Wildwood Inn Cafe.

Educators Stop Lawmen, 90-88

The Educators noded out the Lawmen 90 to 88 at Monday night's sports spectacular benefit basketball game at Warren Area High School.

At least 500 persons turned out for the event which found state troopers, augmented by personnel recruited from the sheriff's department and Coneywango township police as well as some help from the outside, pitted against school faculty members.

NFL Gridders Seek All-Star Tilt with AFL

NEW YORK (AP) — Creighton Miller, legal counsel for the National Football League Players Association, said Tuesday he expected the players to press for a NFL-AFL All-Star game possibly by 1969 when they meet Jan. 5-9 at Hollywood Beach, Fla.

Miller, visiting various league clubs to talk with players, met with the New York Giants Tuesday.

Miller pointed out that the association, formed in 1956, had been able to help the players gain recognition, a pension plan, hospitalization, life and health insurance and other benefits.

The present pension is funded by money from the championship game, Super Bowl, Playoff game and endorsements. Miller said it was his goal to assure all players of a $5,000 yearly pension at the age of 50.

CENTER OF ATTENTION

It took Jim Ringo over 13 years to do it, but he finally found a way to get some attention at center. The Eagles' pivot was honored Sunday for starting in his 181st consecutive game, an NFL record. Above, Ringo accepts a football from referee Harry Brubaker. He was an All-Pro center several times while playing with the Green Bay Packers.

Paterno vs. FSU's Peterson in Gator Bowl

By DUFFY DAUGHERTY
Head Football Coach
Michigan State University

This is the time of year when a bowl-bound college football coach has to make sure he doesn't come up with a snow-bound team.

Pennsylvania snow is why Coach Joe Paterno is taking Penn State to Daytona Beach on Dec. 19 to prepare there for the Dec. 30 game against Florida State in Jacksonville's Gator Bowl.

Hall of Famer Earle "Greasy" Neale, 76 and retired to West Palm Beach golf courses where he shoots in the low 80s, thinks it's a mistake for a college team to work out 10 or 11 days in Florida.

"Shucks," says Greasy, "when I took 18 Washington and Jefferson men to the 1922 Rose Bowl to play California we had only 2½ days out there. That's all I wanted."

"Knute Rockne said I was crazy. But we were from Washington, Pa., and I didn't want my players to get acclimated to hot weather and get pooped."

Maybe both teams got pooped because they played the only Rose Bowl scoreless tie in history.

Paterno is a shrewd young coach because he's taking 60 players South and recalls people were waving Confederate flags when Penn State lost to Florida 17-7 five years ago. I think he's also trying to develop a Southern accent.

That's tough for a little fellow who played football in the Brooklyn streets. But he learned the hard way, went to Brown, played under Rip Engle, followed him to Penn State and when Rip retired Joe stepped into his shoes.

Paterno is going South hoping to prove that Eastern football is the best he has ever seen it. He says Syracuse was the best team he saw all year and that nobody recognized that fact until the Orange beat UCLA. He rates Syracuse above N.C. State and Miami, both losers to Penn State.

Paterno has exchanged with Florida State films of six games and so far Bill Peterson, who coaches the Seminoles from Tallahassee, seems content. Pete lacks a fascinating Southern drawl because he's from Ohio Northern. But he's clever. On his Sunday TV shows he brings along some of his players and lets them interview each other.

Paterno favors the pro style passing game ever since he got Steve Tensi from Ohio and Fred Biletnikoff from Pennsylvania. They set Gator Bowl passing and receiving records three years ago when F.S. beat Oklahoma.

His big man this time is quarterback Kim Hammond with 140 completions for 15 TDs, fourth best in the nation. And split end Ron Sellers rates second nationally with 70 catches for 1,228 yards and eight TDs. Florida State also has a fine scorer in soph Grant Guthrie. He kicked 28 of 27 extra points and made nine field goals.

Penn State's big scorer is versatile soph fullback Don Abbey, whose 88 points rank him fifth nationally. He rushed for nine TDs, kicked 25 extra points and made three field goals. Other Nittany Lion stars are quarterback Tom Sherman, sixth nationally in total offense, split end Jack Curry, tight end Ted Kwalick and safety Tim Montgomery.

Paterno and Peterson believe this game may see the best passing and catching of all the bowls.

Peteron has brought wealth and happiness to Florida State. The Gator Bowl may pay each school $190,000 and since Penn State and Florida State have no conference ties you can see that amount will buy a lot of athletic equipment.

Peteron, whose ambitions are to win a national championship and leave his five children 100 acres of land, is recognized as a big winner now. The other day a pretty woman pulled up to the curb and screamed "great, great."

Pete was flabbergasted until the woman, whose daughter goes to F.S., explained that the victory over Florida was the greatest.

Something like that happened to Bear Bryant when he returned to Alabama. He was stripped to the waist and taking his yard for a new lawn when a woman in a limousine pulled up and asked:

"Young man, you do much hard work like that? How much do you get?"

Just then Mrs. Bryant came out the front door and Bear replied:

"Well the lovely lady at the door doesn't pay me but she sure gives me three fine meals a day."

Sam Huff Wraps Up Grid Career Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sam Huff, his eyes red and swelled by tears, quietly told newsmen Tuesday he would play his last professional football game Sunday.

The veteran linebacker left the door ajar, however, for a possible return next season if he were needed to help the Washington Redskins with a championship.

"There comes a time in every athlete's life when he has to hang up his jersey," Huff told a news conference in a dressing room at D.C. Stadium. "That time has come for me. Sunday will be my last game."

Seated next to Huff were Washington coach, Otto Graham, and club president, Edward Bennett Williams.

Before the news conference, Huff spent about 15 minutes alone in front of his locker, crying. His teammates, finishing practice, said nothing to him but as several went past him, they patted him on the back.

Huff has spent the past four years with the Redskins following an eight-year stint with the New York Giants.

He was out five weeks this year with a severely sprained ankle. Before the injury, he played in 157 consecutive games and had hoped to break the NFL record of 180 set by his friend, Dick Modzelewski. The mark was broken Sunday by Philadelphia's Jim Ringo.

Rated one of the National Football League's greatest modern linebackers, Huff earned his reputation by occasionally stopping Jim Brown of Cleveland in one of the most publicized personal rivalries in professional football.

A vicious tackler, Huff's name has become synonymous with the controlled violence of professional football.

Huff, 33, said his age was an important factor in his decision to retire.

49ers' Tackle On Injury List

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Clark Miller, defensive tackle, was declared out of Saturday's San Francisco-Dallas Cowboys National Football League game Tuesday, making the fifth 49er currently on the injured waiver list.

Miller is in St. Mary's Hospital for treatment of a kidney bruised in Atlanta Sunday.

Also out for the 49ers NFL finale are ends Dave Parks and Monty Stickles, guard John Thomas and defensive back Jim Johnson.

Army Captain

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Kenneth Johnson, junior linebacker from Newburgh, N.Y., was named captain of the 1968 Army football team Tuesday.

It is the third straight year that a defensive player will lead the Cadets. Defensive end Bud Neswichevsky was the 1967 captain and linebacker Townsend Clarke the leader in 1966.

Rosters and the first half schedule for the Junior Basketball League have been announced by loop chairman Tony Tomassoni.

The five-team circuit will open play on Saturday, December 16, with the first half ending on January 31. League games are slated for both Saturday and Wednesday afternoons.

WAHS varsity players will coach the teams, which are required to wear uniform attire in league contests.

Team rosters, subject to change, are as follows:

PISTONS—Mike Plehuta and Mark Krumm, co-captains; Tim Trowbridge, Joe Gebhardt, John Tracy, Tom Huber and Barry Whisner.

HAWKS—Jim Nelson and Craig Young, co-captains; Robbie Jackson, Rusty Trowbridge, Steve Harper, Mark Donick and Chris Milkan.

WARRIORS—Tom Vought and Mark Torrance, co-captains; Nick Wendelboe, Mike Gray, Dave DeLuca, Joey Bonavita, Nick Tassone and Wade Redding.

CELTICS—Bill Caldwell and Tim Gay, co-captains; Larry Roth, Tim Butt, Dave Mervine, Brian Segel, Mark Berger and Larry Krespan.

KNICKS—Billy Post and Dan Phillips, co-captains; Corky Reynolds, Mark Schumacher, Bob Moran, Matty Brown and Robby Roth.

Cold, Wet Fans Complain About Commercial Breaks

BALTIMORE (AP) — Time-outs called for the sole purpose of showing commercials on television were booed loudly Sunday by fans at the National Football League game between the Baltimore Colts and New Orleans Saints.

It was raining hard and the temperature was 37 degrees.

John F. Steadman, sports editor of the Baltimore News American, devoted a full column to the subject Monday under the heading "TV Timeouts All Wet to Soaked Fans."

He wrote there were 17 time-outs during the game, "six of which were called for the express purpose to sell commercial products to the TV viewers along the network."

"The live audience in Baltimore got rained on."

"It was an imposition to the fans of Baltimore to have to be inconvenienced by television timeouts while they took a drenching."

Bulls' Boozier Moves Up in NBA Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Boozier bounced around the National Basketball Association for six years without setting the world afire, but expansion seems to have given him a hot hand.

The big forward of the Chicago Bulls, the league's new club last year, pumped in 112 points last week and jumped from seventh to third in the NBA scoring race with 682 points for a 22.7 average, statistics showed today.

Last year, Boozier averaged 18 points for the Bulls far more than he ever managed for Cincinnati, New York or Los Angeles.

Dave Bing of Detroit still leads the league with 748 points and a 28.8 average, ahead of Elgin Baylor's 731 and 25.2.

Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia leads in field goal percentage with 54 per cent while Jon McGlocklin of San Diego is tops in free throws with 88.1 per cent.

Nate Thurmond of San Francisco leads Chamberlain by one rebound with 675, although Chamberlain has averaged more per game, 24.1 to 22.5.

Len Wilkens of St. Louis leads in assists with 222 for 7.7 a game.

Vet Hurler Simmons Quits Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Curt Simmons—one of baseball's first big bonus babies—is retiring after 20 years in major league baseball.

Simmons, 38, said Tuesday he will become general manager of a suburban Philadelphia golf course owned by a group which includes himself and former Philadelphia Phillies' teammate Robin Roberts.

"I don't want to be a hanger-on," the lefthander said. "It's about time I packed it in. It was a good life while it lasted but now I'm ready to stay home with my family."

Simmons was signed out of Egypt (Pa.) High School by Phillies owner Bob Carpenter in 1947 for $65,000. He helped pitch the 1950 Phillies "Whiz Kids" to a pennant in 1950. But he missed the World Series with the New York Yankees when he was called to duty with the National Guard during the Korean crisis.

He was unconditionally released by the Phillies in 1960, but signed with the St. Louis Cardinals a week later. He pitched in the 1964 World Series for the Cards in which he lost a game and in 1966 was sold to the Chicago Cubs.

He pitched the 1967 season with the Los Angeles Angels, winning 2 and losing 1 for a lifetime major league total of 190 wins, 176 losses.

Poland Withdraws Olympic Ice Team

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Polish Olympic Committee withdrew its hockey team from the 1968 Winter Olympics competition Tuesday. The decision lifted West Germany into the championship pool at Grenoble, France, Feb. 6-18.

Randy Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Randy Minniear, a taxi squad member who graduated from the Westchester Bulls' farm club to the New York Giants, will get a gold taxi medal Monday from the Metropolitan Taxicab Board of Trade. He is an offensive back.

Each timeout lasts two minutes.

Television commercials are scheduled in advance to be shown at certain times during a game. If the ball is not dead otherwise, such as after a touchdown or at the two-minute warning, and it is time for a commercial, the referee calls an official timeout on a signal from a representative of the television staff on the sideline.

Steadman called upon Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner, to appoint a committee to study the television timeout system "so it can make a report at the next league meeting."

The Baltimore Sun also reported that "if the fans were uncomfortable because of the weather, they were enraged by the frequent timeouts for television commercials."

"There's 60,000 freezing people here and they gotta stop for a commercial," the Sun quoted one irate fan as saying.

A spokesman for the National Football League said he was not aware of any abuses and that the game would have to be reviewed before any official comment could be made.

"The understanding is that TV commercials are to be shown at convenient stages when they don't interrupt the movement of the game," the spokesman said. "That is, after scores, etc."

"If there are not enough of these occasions, then the officials may call timeouts for TV but they should not interrupt the game. They are made at the change of the ball and times like that."

Mikita 5th In NHL's Point Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Three weeks ago, slender Stan Mikita, Chicago's three-time National Hockey League scoring champion, was 49th in the scoring race with seven goals and 10 points in 15 games.

Today, Mikita is fifth with 29 points, only seven behind teammate Bobby Hull. Buoyed by the return to action by linemate Doug Mohns, Mikita has fired seven goals and 11 assists in the last eight games to climb back into the race.

Hull, with 24 goals and 12 assists for 36 points, regained the scoring lead from Boston's Johnny Bucyk, who had a 13-game point producing streak snapped Sunday night.

Bucyk had 18 goals and 17 assists for 35 points and teammates Fred Stanfield and John McKenzie stand third and fourth. Stanfield had 33 points and McKenzie 31.

Toronto's goaltending team of Johnny Bower and Bruce Gamble took the netminding lead with a 2.15 goals against average, a shade better than Philadelphia's Doug Favell and Bernie Parent, who are averaging 2.24.

Percy Safe After Attack On Unescorted Visit to Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., safely through a Communist attack on him and his party during an unescorted visit to the site of a Viet Cong massacre, said Tuesday: "This is closer to action than I got in three years of World War II."

Frequently mentioned as a possible GOP candidate for president, the 48-year-old senator was speaking as a veteran of wartime service in the U.S. Navy.

U.S. Army helicopter gunships summoned by his wife Loraine and the crew of their chartered helicopter rescued Percy and four men who had gone afoot with him into fire-ravaged Dakson, where 202 Montagnard tribesmen are estimated to have been killed by a raiding Viet Cong battalion Dec. 5.

None of the men was hit, though some of five mortar rounds exploded within 15 or 20 feet of the senator and about 15 bullets whined overhead. The Communists shot from concealment in jungles around the

Draft Law Violation Convictions Have Doubled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Convictions for draft law violations doubled in the past year, and judges handed out stiffer sentences, federal court figures showed Tuesday.

Figures from the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts showed 748 persons were convicted during the fiscal year that ended last June 30. This compares with 372 during the 1966 fiscal year.

Humphrey Says Party Will Unite Behind Johnson

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said Tuesday that after the Republicans chose their candidate at their national convention next summer, the Democratic party, despite the differences in it, will unite behind President Johnson for the November election.

Humphrey, here to tape an appearance on the nationally syndicated Mike Douglas television show, predicted to newsmen "that the vast majority of Democrats will be united, even those who are now dissenting," over the administration's Vietnam policies.

Humphrey said even Sen. Eugene McCarthy has indicated that should he fail to win the Democratic nomination as a peace candidate, he would most likely support the party's choice because there is no one on the Republican side he could back.

The vice president said he had no objection to McCarthy, a fellow Minnesotan, from seeking office.

"I think it is fortunate that one of his intelligence and ability is offering himself for such a high office," the vice president said.

Humphrey said he was delighted to have been tapped by Johnson to make a 14-day visit to nine African nations starting Dec. 29. He noted it has been too long since an elected American official has visited that continent.

Scranton Says Rocky Has Best Chance

HARRISBURG (AP) — Former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, himself a veteran of the presidential wars, pointed Tuesday to New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as the Republican with the "best possible chance" of winning the presidency.

However, Scranton, who battled unsuccessfully for the GOP nomination against former U.S. Sen. Barry Goldwater in 1964, refused to discount the prospects of Michigan Gov. George Romney, the only announced candidate to date.

"At the moment, I think Nelson Rockefeller is the person with the best possible chance of winning," Scranton said in an impromptu news conference in the corridors of the state Capitol.

"However, I cannot emphasize enough that a lot of things can happen between now and next summer."

Scranton, along with Rhode Island Gov. John Chafee, was present last August when Rockefeller read a porchside statement at Mackinaw Island, Mich., Romney's vacation retreat, supporting the Michigan governor for the nomination.

He has since insisted repeatedly, however, he was there merely as a Romney house guest and was not a party to the Rockefeller endorsement.

Scranton, who previously had cited Romney as the "best possible candidate" available to the Republican Party, said his Rockefeller statement was not inconsistent with his earlier declarations.

hamlet, near the Cambodian frontier 80 miles north of Saigon.

The Americans, who carried only two weapons, never spotted them.

Percy packed a snub-nosed .38-caliber revolver. Dennis Smith, a U.S. refugee official, was armed with a carbine. Others in the party were Kenneth Schmid, a Chicago friend of the senator's, Scott Cohen, his foreign affairs adviser, and Fred Ward of Look magazine.

Percy got some small scratches on his arms as he crawled behind some wood huts for cover. His clothes were still muddy and there were spots of blood on the lower part of one of his pants legs when he appeared at a news conference in Saigon.

The trip to Dakson resulted from an impromptu decision when the senator found he had time to while away after inspecting a refugee village 20 miles north of Saigon.

Percy said he had never obtained a military escort for any of his field trips and the thought of an attack "never really occurred to me."

"We circled the village five or six times," he said. "There seemed to be no sign of life, so we took the chopper in."

The two crewmen put the craft down on the outskirts. The other men walked about 100 yards into the hamlet. Mrs. Percy stayed with the helicopter.

The attack flared just as Percy emerged from one of the bunkers in which many of the Montagnards were trapped by flame throwers and grenades in the Viet Cong raid.

With the first explosion, the helicopter took off for Song Be, three miles away, to call in military help.

Mrs. Percy said: "I grabbed the photographic equipment and papers lying on the floor of the helicopter and the crewmen grabbed hold of me. We took off straight over the trees."

They were back in 20 minutes with four or five gunships.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said someone probably would discuss the future schedule with Percy and the possibility of arranging for a security escort, adding: "But he is a senator and has the right to go where he wants."

Percy enlisted in the Navy as an apprentice seaman in 1943. He was honorably discharged two years later with the rank of lieutenant. He received the commendation of Rear Adm. V. H. Ragsdale for administration and supervision of naval ordnance training units at the Alameda, Calif., Naval Air Station.

Actress Questioned On Obscene Role

ROME (AP) — Belgian-born actress Catherine Spaak was questioned by a Rome prosecutor Tuesday in a case in which she, American actress Jane Fonda, French actor Jean Sorel and director Roger Vadim are charged with making an obscene film.

Miss Spaak, who lives in Rome, said she told the prosecutor she failed to see anything obscene in her role in the film "Pleasure and Love," during a 20-minute questioning, she said she would plead innocent.

The film told of an intricate series of love affairs involving the same persons. A Milan prosecutor charged the love scenes were too close to reality.

Miss Spaak was questioned in Rome at the request of Milan authorities. The case is in the investigation phase leading up to a possible indictment and trial.

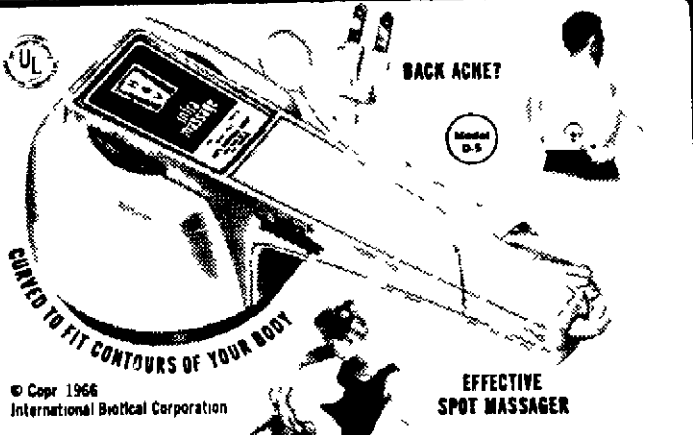

Miss Spaak is the niece of former Belgian statesman Paul Henri Spaak.

Frame on Point System Panel

State Senator Richard C. Frame was named to another special committee of the General Assembly Monday.

Frame was picked by Senate President Robert D. Fleming to serve on the point system panel, which will review the state's new program of assessing points for traffic violations.

The Republican senator from Franklin also serves on the Assembly's mental health committee and its natural resources group.

Lancaster Farmers Rally To Defeat Tobacco Tax

HARRISBURG (AP) — Some 300 Lancaster County farmers were assured by their local legislative representatives Tuesday that every effort would be exerted to defeat a proposed $3.5 million tax on tobacco products other than cigarettes.

"This is a tax on the Pennsylvania cigar industry and on the Pennsylvania tobacco farmer," declared Sen. Richard S. Snyder, R-Lancaster.

"I can't remember any tax that hit both industry and agriculture at the same time. We are doing our best to beat the cigar tax."

However, Rep. Harry H. Gring, R-Lancaster, pointed out the scope of the problem confronting the county's legislative members.

"Tobacco production is concentrated in only 5 or 6 of the 67 counties," he told the delegation assembled on the steps of the Capitol rotunda. "Our problem is that we have to convince many more men than we may be able to convince."

The 35 per cent excise tax on tobacco products was part of a

No West to East For Berliners This Christmas

(c) N.Y. Times News Service

BERLIN — Mayor Klaus Schuetz said Tuesday that he had given up hope for an agreement this year permitting several hundred thousand West Berliners to visit relatives in Communist-ruled East Berlin during Christmas.

At a news conference, the West Berlin mayor remarked that "in our experience up to now this is the last day" (Dec. 12) on which such an agreement could be reached with the East German Communist government for Christmas visits.

In 1963, 1964, and 1965, the East German authorities arranged for more than a million West Berliners to visit relatives on the other side of the 28-mile concrete wall that divides the city.

It has been estimated that roughly one-third of the 2.2 million West Berliners and that 1.1 million East Berliners have close relatives on opposite sides of the barriers that were raised in 1961.

Schuetz said that "it is bitter that the German Democratic Republic" had refused overtures from his city government to renew the so-called "passes agreements" permitting the visits" and said that the Berliners cannot see each other this Christmas." compromise $104 million tax package drafted by Gov. Shafer and the Republican and Democratic three weeks of continuous bargaining.

The protest demonstration was organized by the Tobacco Growers Association of Lancaster County, the state's largest tobacco producing area which nets approximately $12 million annually from the product. The demonstration was orderly at all times.

Cigar industry representatives who had conferred with House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson, R-Allentown, on the situation Monday, were on hand to lend the farmers their support.

The demonstrators came to Harrisburg in eight chartered buses and carried signs which read: "Kill the Cigar Tax," "Don't Tax the Farmers' Living," and "Cigar Taxes Don't Work." Most also wore badges which declared: "I Protest the Cigar Tax."

"You're very helpful just by being here and wearing your badges," Snyder told them. "The other lawmakers can't help but notice you."

No Word on Where Navy Deserters Are

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet officials refused to say today what has become of the four U.S. Navy deserters who spent three weeks in Moscow protesting the American war effort in Vietnam.

The Moscow hotel where the four youths had been staying said Monday they left several days earlier. They could not be located at other Moscow hotels.

The sailors said when they arrived last month from Japan that they hoped to go to a neutral country to work against the United States in Vietnam. They deserted from the aircraft carrier Intrepid in Japan, and a Japanese antiwar committee helped them slip out to the Soviet Union.

The four sailors are Richard D. Bailey, 19, of Jacksonville, Fla.; John Michael Barilla, 20, Catonsville, Md.; Craig W. Anderson, 20, San Jose, Calif.; and Michael Lindner, 19, of Mount Pocono, Pa.

Progress of Constitutional Convention is Reported

By DICK DEW

(Special to the TMO)

Around lunch time last Thursday, December 7, the Pennsylvania Constitutional Convention adjourned after its first week of work. It's much too soon to evaluate its progress. The big days lie ahead. Possibly not until after New Year's will real tangible results be visible. With conservative estimates of interruptions for bad weather, farm show, holidays and weekends, we see less than 48 days left before mandatory adjournment February 29.

Meanwhile the sometimes sparsely occupied public galleries were treated to a few highlights worth reviewing:

1—Opening sessions were geared to pomp, pageantry and protocol. In successive days stirring tributes were paid to bi-partisanship, living ex-Governors, bi-partisanship, Pennsylvania Congressmen, bi-partisanship and the General Assembly. The following Monday concluded the ceremonial tributes with a salute to "distinguished citizens".

2—By the end of the week a permanent set of rules had been unanimously adopted. In the much heralded spirit of bi-partisanship, the 88 Republicans and 75 Democrats agreed on strictly alphabetical seating.

3—The Con-Con rules also call for co-chairmen (presumably one from each party) for all committees and sub-committees.

The adopted plan specifies eight major standing committees and 16 sub-committees. The eight standing committees are: legislative apportionment; judiciary; local government; taxation and state finance; style and drafting; rules; administration and finances; and arrangement, submission and address to the people.

4—The delegates listened to four official briefings:

David Stahl, Pittsburgh city solicitor, outlined the major issues on legislative apportionment. Stahl, one of four special task force directors, "wrote the book" for the Preparatory Committee on the subject.

His eight-point blueprint asks these questions:

1—How many members should there be in the Pennsylvania

House and Senate?

2—What standards, consistent with the Federal Constitution, should be established for drawing the boundaries of state legislative districts?

3—Should multi-member districts be permitted or prohibited?

4—What consideration should be given to political subdivision boundary lines in the drawing of state legislative districts?

5—What restrictions, if any, should be adopted to restrict gerrymandering, defined as the "artful technique of drawing district lines for partisan advantage"?

6—What should be the population base for apportionment—total population (the U.S. census), citizens (census minus aliens), or voting population?

7—What agency should perform the apportionment function—the legislature or someone else?

8—What should be the frequency of apportionment?

5—The second delegate briefing was handled by another task force director, Burton R. Laub, former judge, now dean of the Dickinson College Law School. He said the judiciary section of the Constitution raises critical questions on how to put good judges on the bench yet get rid of the bad ones. Selection of judges by election or some other method such as appointment is one of the tough problems the delegates must face.

A possible future controversy was spotlighted last week with an unsuccessful attempt to amend the rules and set up a special sub-committee on the minor judiciary. The motion lost 17 to 131, but most observers feel any constitutional rewriting that would change the justice of peace and magistrate system is in for heavy debate.

The convention officers elected are:

President—Lt. Governor Raymond J. Broderick.

First Vice-President—Robert P. Casey.

Second Vice-President—Frank A. Orban, Jr.

Secretary—James A. Michener.

Former Governor William W. Scranton and former State Senator and Democrat Primary gubernatorial candidate Robert P. Casey head the Rules Committee.

The final two briefings came in the closing hours of the week. Dr. David H. Kurtzman, Superintendent of Public Instruction, outlined the needs for extending the now impractical $1,000,000 constitutional debt limit. He also cited higher borrowing costs of the authority system of capital improvements as a key financial problem for convention scrutiny.

William G. Willis, vice president of Temple University, raised key questions about the functions of local government—possibly the most controversial area facing the convention. The delegates were asked to consider if local government shouldn't be a "full-fledged partner in the shaping of a brighter, fuller, more humane society"?

Kurtzman and Willis are both directors of special pre-convention task forces; Kurtzman on Taxation and Finance and Willis on Local Government. The second week started Monday afternoon with the Convention and General Assembly (by unfortunate necessity) planning to "share" the hall of the House under Capitol dome. A difficult situation which will continue until one body or the other finishes its work.

Discuss Extension Of Conewango Avenue

The proposed extension of Conewango avenue was discussed at Monday's council meeting.

Borough manager Victor L. Miller pointed out that land acquisition and razing of certain buildings must be completed with the latter dependent on weather conditions.

Included in the demolition department is the row of old buildings just east of the Pennsylvania avenue bridge and directly in the line of Conewango avenue pictured Thursday, December 7 in the Times-Mirror and Observer.

Miller said razing of these buildings is slated to get under way after the first of the year. Following land acquisition and demolition, Miller advised, actual construction of the expansion route would probably take three months.

The plan also calls for extension of Lexington avenue to meet with the expanded length of Conewango, a move designed to alleviate some of the borough's traffic congestion problems.

Council earlier this year approved the measure. The buildings in question are currently unoccupied and the borough has acquired ownership.

Miller added the borough would handle the job of demolition.

Borough Fire Loss For Month is $64,650

Warren borough firemen last month battled fires involving $300,000 in valuation but held the actual fire loss to $64,650.

The departments recorded 13 still calls and six box alarms which required 2,700 feet of hose to be laid and 261.1 miles traveled. Time consumed totaled 16 hours and 57 minutes.

Firemen were called for four investigations and one mutual aid run. There were 64 inspections completed in November. These included mercantile and industrial firms, apartments, office buildings, schools, garages, service stations, salvage yards, burning areas and residential locations.

Personnel was schooled a total of 68 hours on the following: hose lays, ladder work, street locations, heavy streams, salvage, overhaul and the off-crew made a complete tour of Sylvania Plastics, Sylvania Wire, Sylvania Weld and Sylvania Base Metal plants.

The men also attended the special schooling in Civil Defense Management Course and the Fire Police Training School.

Continues Larceny Probe

Chief Deputy Sheriff Richard E. Hegerty is continuing his investigation into a larceny reported Sunday in Clarendon borough.

Hegerty stated he received complaints from residents in Clarendon that their garages had been entered and cars ransacked. Personal items were taken from the vehicles but exactly what is not known at this time.

The complainants were Charles Lyon, 6 Ellison st., Robert Jones, 209 Main street, Kenneth Knight, 1 Center street and Ann Lutes, 1 Ellison street.

IOOF to Meet

Kossuth Encampment, 98, IOOF, will meet in regular session at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The Golden Rule degree will be conferred on a class of candidates and other business transacted.

Light lunch will be served following the meeting and members are urged to be present.

Building Permits

Borough manager Victor L. Miller issued seven building permits last month for a total value of $247,100.

NEW VET

Dr. L. D. Rumsey, DVM, (left) as of Monday has taken over the large animal practice of Dr. David K. Rice and will be working on his own. Dr. Rice plans to continue his small animal business by appointment as in the past.

Dr. Rumsey to Practice As Vet in Warren County

Warren County has a new veterinarian who will take over the large animal practice of Dr. David K. Rice, newly elected county commissioner who will officially take office on January 2.

Dr. L. D. Rumsey, DVM, who graduated from Cornell University in June of this year, has been affiliated with the Pet Animal Hospital in Jamestown, N. Y. He also attended the University of Pennsylvania for three years.

Dr. Rice emphasized that Dr. Rumsey will not be acting as his assistant but will be working strictly on his own.

Police Score 529 Parking Violations

The Warren borough police department has reported its income and activities for the month of November.

There were 529 parking violations and 18 traffic arrests along with 12 violations of the borough ordinance. Police conducted 54 investigations and handled one case for the Commonwealth.

Parking tickets collected netted the borough $330 and fines collected $299.50. Receipts from the dog pound totaled $6 while parking meter collections added another $2,738. The mayor issued licenses to account for $6, bringing the total income to $3,379.

Police answered 696 telephone calls for information and answered 127 calls. There were 47 minor investigations and seven major. Money was guarded in transit on eight occasions and three fire calls were answered. Doors found open or unlocked totaled 19 and there were two funeral escorts provided.

One special event was policed and through the Warren County Humane Society seven stray dogs picked up by police were placed in good hands.

The department reported 20 transients or overnight lodgers and 21 street lights out last month. One talk was presented; five justice hearings attended and 21 accidents investigated.

Youngsville Businessmen Hold Christmas Party

More than 1,100 Youngsville area residents recently filled to standing room only the Youngsville high school auditorium to participate in the Christmas party sponsored by the Youngsville Business Peoples Assn. The top prizes of bicycles were awarded to Shirley Petko and Barry Bates, both excited four-year-olds.

James Pearson, chairman of the committee on arrangements, served as master of ceremonies. Miss Diane Bodamer, of the Youngsville high school music department, directed the 130-voice combined junior-senior high chorus and led the congregation in singing the most popular Christmas carols. The hand bell choir of the Youngsville Methodist church performed three selections. The Rev. James Dorrow, of the Saron Lutheran church, gave the invocation and the benediction. Terry Abplanalp was organist.

To the lively singing of Jingle Bells, Santa arrived and immediately distributed pens to everyone, compliments of Engstroms, Mary-Alice Shop, and the ABC Store. Throughout the evening prizes were awarded which totaled nearly $1,000 in value.

Gift certificates from the Youngsville Business Peoples Assn. were won by the following:

$25—Pam Horrell, Bobby English, Sally Wing, and Pauline Baumgardner.

$10—Debbie Reynolds, Judy Morgan, Lewis Crippen, Olive Marshall, Susan Hill, Mary Takats, Michael Witzel, Jim Horrell, Carl Henton, and Kim Warner.

The "old fashioned Christmas party" drew an attendance of four hundred in 1964, increased to 600 in 1965, over 800 in 1966, and to nearly 1,100 this year. In addition to Chairman Pearson, the committee on arrangements included James C. Hall, Al Aiello, Fred Lindquist, and Ed Maynard. Rex Young served as president of the sponsoring Youngsville Business Peoples Assn.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES GRAHAM of Garland will be observing their Golden Wedding Anniversary this Sunday, December 17th. An open house has been planned for the occasion by their children, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Luciano. The anniversary open house will be held in the Garland Fire House from 1 to 4 p. m.

ZONTA'S CHRISTMAS DINNER takes place tomorrow evening in the Blue Manor at 6:15. Any member who finds she cannot attend may cancel the standing reservation before noon today by calling any one of the following: Mrs. Myrl Lawson, Mrs. Helena Iseman, Miss Mary Topper, Mrs. Geraldine Nelson.

A VERY SUCCESSFUL YULETIDE TUREEN DINNER was reported by the St. Clara's-St. Anthony's Parish. Tables, laden with delicious and colorful varieties of favorite dishes, were decorated in keeping with the season by a committee chair-maned by Mrs. Frances Thornton. There were $1 grab bag gifts for all one hundred guests, and special gifts presented to Father John T. Carter, pastor, by the Ave Maria Society and the Men's Society. Father James Miller of Cleveland was among the guests. George Moldovan directed group singing of Christmas songs and carols, with Mrs. Thomas Curtin providing piano accompaniment.

A CHRISTMAS PARTY AT LIMBERLOST will be enjoyed by the Catholic Daughters of America, of Sheffield and Clarendon, tomorrow at 6:30 p. m. The $1 gift exchange is optional; however, there will be a gift for the Gannondale girls in Erie.... No donations or contributions are needed for Blue Jay. Mrs. Bea Yuskow was in charge of making reservations.

CAME ACROSS THIS STORY OF THE MISTLETOE: The mistletoe has a long history.... It was sacred even to the ancient Druids and its mystical significance stemmed from the plant growing upon the oak tree and not from the ground. Since it touched neither heaven nor earth, it was therefore believed to be immune from the influence of evil spirits. It was used in rites to insure the favorable outcome of crop-planting and harvests, love, marriage, birth and other momentous events down through the centuries.

MINIATURES: Monday, December 18th, the Academy of Friendship of The Women of The Moose will be held at the Moose Lodge at 6:30 p. m. There is to be a $1 gift exchange.

The Lander Sunshine Club will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Ruth Swanson. Mrs. Edith Hitchcock will assist the hostess at the 1 o'clock luncheon.... Members are to bring a 50-cent gift for exchange.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell me what is wrong with a woman who has an asthmatic child and yet insists on keeping two chipmunks, a dog, a cat, a rabbit, a flying squirrel and three ducks. All this livestock walks around loose in the living room. The child is forever wheezing and is now broken out all over with a terrible looking rash.

I've told her if she would get rid of the zoo her boy might get well. She says I am crazy.

Please give me your opinion on whether or not this boy could be allergic to the animals. She might listen to you—A FRIEND

Dear Friend: It is more than likely that the boy's allergy is related to the zoo, but only a doctor can say for certain. If the woman has not taken the boy to a physician, I certainly hope she will do so at once.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like to comment on the letters you get from mothers who do not approve of their daughters' boyfriends. When my daughters are old enough to have boyfriends, I'll remember my own bitter past.

I was 18 and a high school graduate when I fell for a 30-year-old man who was separated from his wife. My mother kept telling me, "He's too old for you. He's no good. He'll never marry you."

I was determined to prove to my mother that I COULD get him to marry me. I nagged him into getting a divorce (which I know he didn't want) and I even paid for it to knock down his excuse that he didn't have the money for a divorce.

That was eight years ago and now we have three children. The man is no good and I am miserable. I've left him twice, but with three kids, it's too hard to go it alone, so now I am back with him. My mother keeps saying, "You made your bed. Now lie in it. If you had listened to me, you wouldn't be in this mess." The truth is, if she had kept quiet, I would not be in this mess. Say so, please.—DETERMINED

Dear A: The most difficult thing for a mother to learn is when to lay off. Mothers—and fathers, too—have an obligation to speak out and warn their children when they see them heading in the wrong direction. But having spoken out, they should keep quiet. Repeated nagging will serve only to drive their children to some rebellious act which, as you know so well, can be disastrous.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I came to work in this office two months ago. Everyone has been terribly kind to me, especially a woman who is about 10 years my senior. This woman would be quite attractive if she didn't have a mustache. It's the first thing I noticed about her when we met. Others have mentioned it also, so it's not my imagination.

She's so alert about so many things it's hard for me to understand why she is unaware of this. I know of a good cream that removes unwanted hair. I use it myself. Shall I mention it?—CELESTE

Dear Cel: Yes, it would be a real act of friendship. Some people who seem alert about many things don't know what's going on right under their noses.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A friend with whom I had dinner the other evening did something which I feel was wrong. When the food was served, she took a few bites, said "I don't like this," and asked the waiter to bring her something else. The waiter did so at no extra charge.

Since there was nothing wrong with the food except that she didn't like it, wasn't she wrong to ask for a substitute?—TABLE TALK

DEAR TALK: Perhaps the food was too highly seasoned, undercooked or overcooked and this is why she didn't like it. A good restaurant does not resent this if the patron is pleasant.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits—the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-Age Sex—Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Do you feel ill at ease... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MR. AND MRS. RONALD ARTHUR MERCHANT
(McGarry Studio)

Collins-Merchant Nuptial Service In Grace Methodist

Three hundred wedding guests gathered in Grace Methodist Church for the wedding of Sharon Louise Collins and Ronald Arthur Merchant on Saturday afternoon, December 2, at 2 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Collins, 632 Jackson st. ext., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Merchant of Falconer, N. Y.

The Rev. Price, pastor, read the double ring wedding rites at the candlelight service and organ music was provided by Richard Pratt and vocal soloist was Earl Ericson. Two vases of white gladioli, red carnations and white pompons ornamented the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal satin and Chantilly lace which formed the scalloped empire bodice and long sleeves tapering to wedding points at the wrists. A small collar effect topped the chapel length train which swept in graceful folds away from the princess line gown. Her silk bouffant veil was a double tier crown of pearls and crystals with Alencon lace insertion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and variegated holly.

Beverly Sandeen, maid of honor, wore a rouge red floor length velvet gown, a fur white muff decorated with holly and a white fur pill box hat. Owned identically to the honor attendant were the bridesmaids Marlene Reist, cousin of the bride; Betty Merchant, sister of the groom; Linda Hills and Sheila Gardner. Mistress Susan Collins, flower girl and cousin of the bride, was dressed to match the attendants.

Best man for the ceremony was Steve Lord of Falconer, N. Y. Ushers were Donald Merchant, brother of the groom; Stephen Collins, brother of the bride and Timothy Willet of Falconer.

The mother of the bride chose a two-piece moss green suit with tapestry accessories. The mother of the groom wore a two-piece blue and white suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Donald Brown, grandmother of the bride, was remembered with a red rose corsage.

The reception was held at the Pleasant Township firehall with three hundred guests attending. Decorations included a five-tier wedding cake encircled with holly and two vases of white gladioli, red carnations and white pompons. Master and Mistress of ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. William Reist. Aides included Mrs. Joanne Reynolds, Susan Reynolds, Lynne Reynolds and Mrs. Betty Brown.

For traveling, the bride wore a blue A-line dress and white sweetheart roses. The couple are now residing at 208 Jackson st., Warren.

Mrs. Merchant is a graduate of Warren Area High School and is employed by New Process Company. Mr. Merchant is a graduate of Falconer Central High School and is employed by Dow Craft Corporation in Falconer.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Linda Hills; Marlene Reist; Beverly Sandeen; Mrs. Kaye Onuffer; Mrs. Joyce Brown; Mrs. Joanne Reynolds; Mrs. Beverly Lyle; Mrs. Gertrude Brown; Betty Merchant and Doris Merchant. Rehearsal dinner was given at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brown.

CERTIFICATE OF ACHIEVEMENT

On Sunday, at the 11 o'clock service in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Miss Shirleyanne M. Johnson was presented a certificate of achievement issued by the Commission of Worship and Music, Lutheran Church in America, which states that she has successfully completed the sources of instruction in fundamental of church music for parish musicians in the program of the 1964-67 Institutes on worship and church music. Miss Johnson is organist for the 11 o'clock service at St. Paul's. Pictured with Miss Johnson is Pastor Carl E. Nelson.

Russell Church Class Holds Tureen Supper

The Win Them Class of the Methodist Church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Floyd Lindquist for a tureen supper recently. Mrs. Bernice Peterson was the assistant hostess.

At the business meeting which followed, Mrs. Lindquist presided with Mrs. Mae Wood, in charge of the devotions, reading "To Grandmother" and "To Grandfather." Named to a committee to work with the Wednesday Circle on a special Christmas project were Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Harry Pearson.

Members voted to buy poinsettias for the church, and it was reported an artificial arrangement had been purchased for use when no flowers were available.

Mrs. Harold Granquist, in charge of the program, introduced Mrs. Eugene Spencer who spoke on "The Meaning of Christmas."

An exchange of gifts took place among the twenty-seven guests present. Mrs. Gerry Briggs and Mrs. Lindquist, teachers of the class, were remembered with gifts.

The next meeting will be held on January 2, with Mrs. Maynard Dexter and Mrs. Harry Pearson the hostesses.

Members were made to assist the men with their annual children's Christmas party which will be held this Sunday, December 17, for the children of members. At a prior meeting a suggestion was made that old glasses, lens, or frames be saved and donated to the "Glasses For Needy" project.

The auxiliary plans to have interesting projects in the future and all members are encouraged to participate. Its work is dedicated to the good of people.

The meeting was concluded in regular form, with the next meeting to be held on Tuesday, December 19, and the officers meeting on Monday, December 18.

Brides May Look Like Lynda Robb Tomorrow

By Bernadine Morris
(c) N. Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — By tomorrow any girl with a yen to look like a White House bride will be able to satisfy her longing. That's when a copy of the white satin gown Lynda Bird Johnson wore at her wedding Saturday to Capt. Charles S. Robb will go on sale in 800 stores throughout the country.

For $135, a bride will obtain a brush with history, however peripheral; a dress designed by one of America's leading couturiers, and close to seven yards of white satin faille with 46 covered buttons concealed in the back panel pleat.

The label, however, will not be that of Geoffrey Beene, who designed Mrs. Robb's dress. "That was a special order, specifically for Lynda," Beene said today. "It will not be reproduced."

But to Alfred Angelo, who watched the wedding on television in his bridal gown factory in Philadelphia, the design was in the public domain.

The actual wedding simply confirmed facts determined for weeks through his intelligence network. By Saturday, the dresses were already being made by more than 300 workers, to be sold, sight unseen, to several hundred stores, many of whom remembered Angelo's feat of quickly reproducing Luci Johnson Nugent's wedding dress a year and a half earlier and the gowns of Princess Margaret and Grace Kelly before that.

Angelo started manufacturing bridal gowns 22 years ago after a career as a retailer in Philadelphia. His wife of 20 years, Edythe Vincent, heads his design staff.

The girl who wants the complete White House look can also have, for an extra $30, the head-dress ("Live a Juliet cap," said Angelo) with 15 yards of nylon net to serve as a train.

"It's a beautiful dress," said Angelo, who has three daughters of his own approaching marriageable age and one son.

"Most of the girls are going to like it because of its simplicity," he said, "but it also has a slenderizing effect because of the embroidery." The embroidery circles the high neck ("Did you notice, it's shaped just like Captain Robb's collar?") and the wrists, and outlines a rectangle the entire length of the dress. Angelo refers to it as an "apron effect." Flowers with pearl centers are

A CREATION OF BEAUTY AND ART

It took all the bravery a Marine could muster to put his sword to this towering confection. While his bride, the former Lynda Johnson looked on, Marine Captain Charles Robb cut the wedding cake as President Johnson watches at reception in the White House state dining room after the Saturday afternoon wedding ceremony. (UPI Photo) embroidered the length of the bands.

"The dress is floor length so the girl can dance in it without removing the train — the veil takes the place of the train," he explained.

In a few weeks, the company will have the unauthorized copy in 500 stores. Angelo expects to surpass the number of orders for Mrs. Nugent's dress which, at approximately the same price, sold 2,000.

He is also reproducing the bridesmaids' dress, which will sell for about $60, but he is not very bullish about its prospects. "It's red velvet — and how many can we sell?" he asked.

"Just a few before Christmas," Stores carrying the dress by the end of the week include Jordan Marsh in Boston and Miami, Carson Pirie & Scott in Chicago, The Dayton Co. in Minneapolis, The Emporium in San Francisco and Bon Marche in Seattle.

A ring of crisp shredded western iceberg lettuce dotted with chopped pimiento makes an effective platter garnish for a baked ham or roast turkey.

Philomel Club To Present German Concert Pianist

A concert promising to be one of the outstanding cultural events of the season will occur on January 10, 1968, when the Philomel Club of Warren will present the German concert pianist, Detlef Kraus, at Beatty auditorium.

Professor Kraus, a veteran of 33 years on the European concert stage, became known musically in the United States in 1962. Since then, he has returned annually to this country because of increasing demands for his appearances in concert.

A native of Hamburg, where he made his debut at the age of 16 with his performance of Bach's "Well-Tempered Clavier", Kraus spent the next several years as a student of pianist-teacher, Wilhelm Kempff. A disrupted Europe curtailed his plans for a professional career until about two decades ago.

Along with his extensive concert activities for the past ten years, Kraus has been professor of Master Classes for Piano at the Folkwang Hochschule of Essen, Germany.

The artist has appeared with over twenty of the major symphony orchestras of the world including the Berlin Philharmonic, the Munich Philharmonic, the Paris Conservatory Orchestra, and the Salzburg Mozarteum Orchestra. Besides Europe and the United States, he has made numerous tours of South and Central America, Mexico, Canada, and the Near East. His concert performances have taken him to four continents where he has played more than 2,000 concerts in thirty countries.

In May of this year Kraus, the official representative of Germany, performed in the cultural program at the World Festival of Arts in Montreal at Expo '67.

Professor Kraus's repertoire includes works by Mozart, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Brahms, and others.

The Philomel Club of Warren has arranged with Professor

Kraus to conduct a workshop in Beatty auditorium at ten o'clock on the morning of January 10, 1968, which interested students from Beatty, Warren Area High School, and other Warren County schools may attend free of charge. Professor Kraus will lecture and demonstrate at the piano.

Tickets for the eight o'clock evening concert at Beatty auditorium will be available from Philomel Club members. Proceeds from this concert will help to augment the Philomel scholarship fund.

Fashion Note

NEW YORK — It circles necklines, rims hemlines and flutters at the wrists. It appears singly and in pairs, and massive doses cover the surface of blouses or dresses.

It's the ruffle. In the opinion of designers, who have left scarcely any article of apparel untouched by this particular softening agent, it is woman's most potent weapon in the pursuit of the romantic look for spring.

It provides the frosting on tailored suits and shirtwaist dresses. It gives blouses an importance they haven't had for years and it revives the fragile, feminine evening dress.

Opening lead: Three of ♠. West's preemptive jump raise of his partner's one spade overall succeeded in driving South to the five level in order to buy the contract. The latter was reluctant to settle for a small profit by doubling four spades, and, when he showed his second suit by bidding five clubs, North returned to five hearts.

West opened the three of spades and the ace was played from dummy. A heart was led to the jack and West was in again with the ace. He returned another spade, East covered North's queen with the king and declarer ruffed.

South cashed the queen of hearts and West showed out, revealing that East had as many trumps left as the declarer. A club was led to the ace and the queen of diamonds was put thru for a finesse. When East did not cover, the lead was retained in dummy. A small club was played next and East discarded his remaining diamond—the king.

South put up an ace of clubs and led a third round, putting West in with the ten. A diamond return was ruffed by East as declarer's ace fell. East shifted to the ten of hearts to remove dummy's last trump, and declarer was obliged to lose another club trick to West's queen. The outcome on the deal was a 200 point profit for East and West.

South could have averted the deficit altogether by utilizing the dummy's two entries to coordinate his attack. Leading a trump from the North hand at trick two is a wasted play. Instead, it is suggested that declarer take an immediate diamond finesse.

East will presumably not cover. Now, South may turn his attention to hearts, driving out the ace by leading to his jack. He trumps the spade return and cashes the ace of diamonds. When East's king falls, the dummy's suit is established and declarer has a parking place for all of his small clubs.

Since he has lost only one trick so far, South can afford to make a safety play in trumps to protect himself against a four-one division. He does this by leading a low heart from his hand, deliberately conceding a trick. Observe that by this play declarer retains a trump in dummy to protect himself against another force in spades.

East is in, and whatever he returns, South is in position to draw the remaining two hearts with the queen and king, cross over to the ace of clubs and run the dummy's diamonds.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars. FOR WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1967

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)—Mars, in benefic aspect, urges continued interest in projects already started. Solid ventures can be advanced substantially. Side-step distracting time-wasters.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)—Avoid confusion through proper pre-planning. Weigh well the pros and cons when you must render a decision. Emphasize your humor and common sense.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)—Jack up sagging productivity, revise the format of programs which seem to get nowhere. A change of pace, direction, momentum may be the answer. Give this adequate thought.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)—A personal problem? Take it in stride. Just don't neglect essentials in the meantime. In time off, really relax.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)—Keep eyes focused on primary objectives. Coordinate efforts to obtain maximum results. Give prompt attention to urgent matters.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)—Why settle for less than the best when it is within your ability to accomplish so much? (This may be a tendency now.) At the same time, stick to systems and procedures which have proven successful in the past.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)—Supplement present program with new and vital additions. Progress indicated if methods are updated to meet current demands. Seek wise counsel from experts.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 23)—In a wide variety of desires, concentrate on the one which offers the greatest probability of worthwhile success. Do not be vexed by snide remarks, gossip.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)—Think things out carefully before taking action, and you will save innumerable steps. Study, read, discuss, become familiar with all phases of your endeavor to insure best results.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)—An analytical look at your position may indicate some new avenues to pursue. Keep an easy yet alert eye on future moves. Taper off in late hours to relax.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)—Uranus not too auspicious. This means more consolidated effort, perhaps an adjustment of your schedule, the better to suit changing requirements.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)—Your fine imagination, used constructively, will win out now. Never mind detractors. YOU are one of the UP-graders. Compete: help form new plans.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with keen mental and physical abilities that usually coordinate extraordinarily well to produce top success. You are innately logical, quick-thinking and cheerfully adapt to necessary changes in plans and programs. You are vitally interested in people and love the opportunity travel affords to observe new places and customs and meet persons whose environment is completely different from your own. You are versatile, progressive; could succeed in almost any field of your choosing. Birthdate of: Lawrence Lowell, lawyer, educator, author; Drew Pearson, newspaper columnist.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

FATTY THINKS FAT

Obesity is undesirable for many reasons, but a few new ones came to our attention recently. Researchers from the University of Wisconsin found that a 300-pound man has less than half the work capacity of a 165-pounder. Tumble have trouble getting the additional oxygen that is needed by exercising muscles. Oxygen is not absorbed as readily by the air sacs because, in fat individuals, the pressures between the blood vessels and lungs are reduced.

Excess layers of fat also prevent the diaphragm from moving down when the lungs are inflated. These factors may also account for the wheezes and puffs fatties develop on moderate exertion.

A second item on obesity was reported by two psychologists at Michael Reese hospital in Chicago. These men found that fat women "think fat" and do not fool themselves into thinking they are slim. Women such as these avoid mirrors and scales because of strong feelings about their distorted size. Many have given up trying to be thinner next year.

Anorexic drugs eliminate or subdue the hunger pangs of dieting, but are not always successful because they do not correct the basic causes of obesity. Most appetite depressants belong to the amphetamine family of drugs. But these products are stimulants and cannot be used by anyone with heart trouble or high blood pressure. Many users develop side effects such as dry mouth, restlessness, irritability, and insomnia.

Starvation as a reducing method comes to our attention from time to time. It is a temporary measure and is recommended only for the grossly obese individual who has not responded to other regimens. While in the hospital, the initial fasting period varies from seven to 14 days. The weekly one-day fast also is used. Total fasting has been found to be a useful tool because it demonstrates to the dieter that body weight can be shed, that food must be the cause, and that he has the will power needed to lose weight.

TOMORROW: Shorter Confinements.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

STITCH ABSCESS

S. R. writes: I had colon surgery and as a result have adhesions. There seems to be a pinching sensation and severe pain in the incision. Could adhesions also cause a hernia?

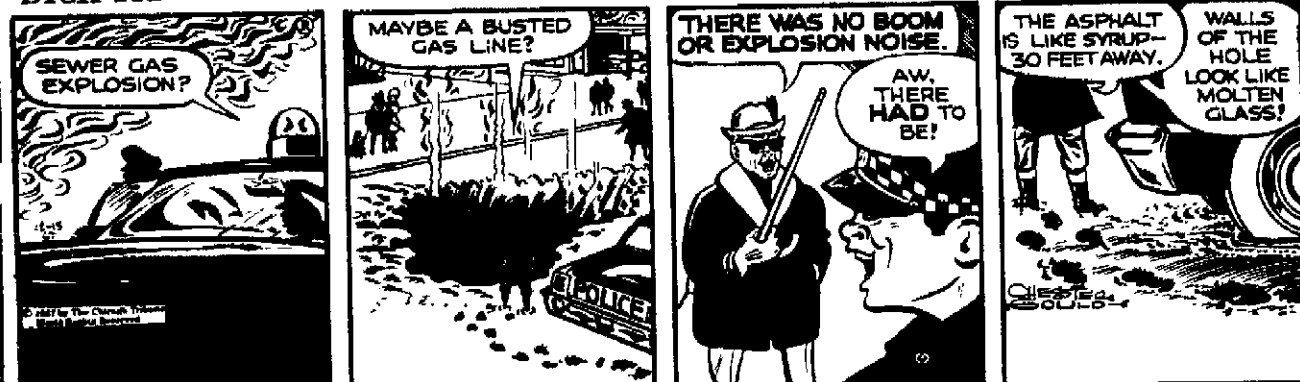

REPLY: No. Adhesions, may kink or twist the intestines causing an obstruction but they do not cause a hernia. The severe pain in the incision should be investigated because a stitch abscess may be present.

SALIVARY GLAND TUMOR

E. A. writes: What can be done about a tumor in the saliva gland?

REPLY: Surgery or irradiation may eliminate the lesion.

NEW COMET MARKET OPENING TODAY

Today is the day for the grand opening of the new Comet Super Market on the three-lane at North Warren.

Lucky shoppers will receive prizes including bicycles, Teflon cookware, toasters, barbecue grills and coffee pots.

The grand prize will be a three-minute shopping spree. The grand prize winner will receive, free of charge, one of each item in the store he can gather up in three minutes, using a shopping cart. (Cigarettes and milk products are the only products that will not be included in the grand prize shopping spree.)

Winners of the other prizes will be notified after the drawing for the prizes, which will be held a week from today, in plenty of time for Christmas. The drawing will be made from a box of coupons deposited by shoppers who have clipped them from the Times-Mirror and Observer.

In addition to these prizes, 50 bags of groceries will be given away during the period from the grand opening at 10 a.m. today through next Saturday.

Comet Super Market will be open today from the 10 a.m. opening until 9 p.m. In the future, store hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Each lady shopper attending the grand opening today will receive a free artificial orchid; there will also be free coffee and doughnuts for everyone.

The new store has several unique features: a red carpet enhances the front of the store, just inside the panel of floor-to-ceiling picture windows; and a complete bakery and delicatessen offer a wide range of foods.

"To the best of our knowledge, we have the only in-store bakery and delicatessen in the area," a Comet representative said yesterday.

Among the delicatessen's offerings will be stuffed pork chops, fried or barbecued chicken, beef stew, stuffed peppers, pigs-in-a-blanket, baked beans, potato salad, macaroni salad, assorted fruit and jello salads, sloppy joes, and fried fish. The bakery will offer a complete line of cookies, cakes, and other delicacies.

The new Comet market, which has wide aisles and a spacious 17,000 square feet of floor space, is air-conditioned for shoppers' comfort.

Work on the interior is completed; yesterday the final touch, Christmas decorations, was added. Work on the exterior will be completed next spring.

Six check-out counters, designed for speedy service, will aid in preventing delay to the customer.

The store will employ some 35 people: cashiers; clerks; a produce manager; a meat department supervisor; meat cutters, and meat wrappers; bakers and icers; and cooks and waitresses.

The store manager, Vincent Vilella, is from Punxsutawney, headquarters of the Comet group of stores. He moved into his new home at 11 Russell st., Warren, two weeks ago, with his wife Martha and three boys: Mark, 6; Patrick, 3; and Dennis, eight weeks.

Assisting Vilella will be Paul Brennan. Department heads include Bill Acklin, head baker; Clara Hunter, head cook; Bill Baker, produce manager; and Lou Tronzo, meat supervisor. Working with Tronzo will be meat cutters Alfred Tronzo and Clifford Stockton.

The new Comet store, which has been under construction since last July, is the sixth of the Comet group. It adds yet another convenient stop for Warren area people in the growing shopping and service complex located along the North Warren three-lane.

During the Grand Opening sale period, starting today and continuing through the next two weeks, area shoppers will enjoy the benefits of reduced prices on many items as they stop in to look over the new facility.

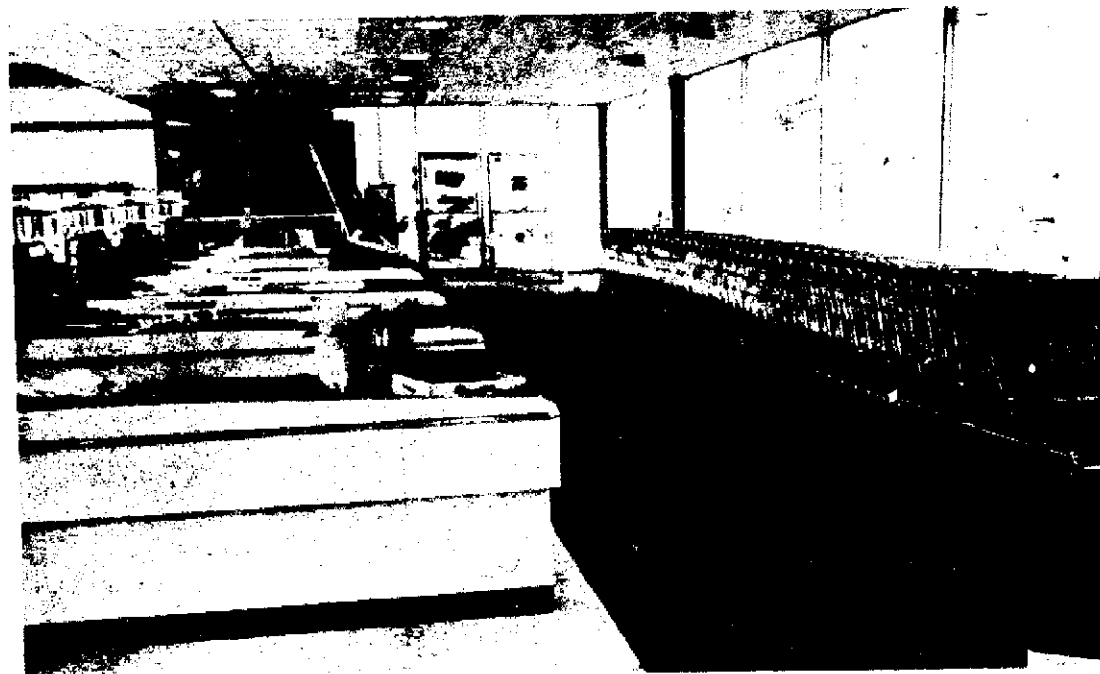

And, as the Comet representative has observed, they will receive "red carpet" treatment unique in the area, while getting the benefit of a one-stop center for freshly baked goods and a wide line of delicatessen foods.

BUTCHER SHOP

Lou Tronzo (left) presides over the butcher shop at the new Comet Super Market as his staff cuts and wraps meat for the store's grand opening at 10 a. m. today. During the next two weeks, there will be Grand Opening sales as well as free prizes at the store, located beside the three-lane in North Warren.

RED CARPET TREATMENT

Shoppers visiting the new Comet Super Market on the North Warren three-lane today will literally get red carpet treatment. The carpet, which extends across the front of the store, is one of the unique features of Comet Super Market, which opens for the first time at 10 a.m. today.

Bakingest Time Of The Year

December means good things baking. Perfume your kitchen with the aroma of freshly baked coffee cake and nut bread. Fill the coffee cake with coconut, brown sugar, raisins, nuts and butter. Top the nut bread with a rich chocolate glaze which has flecks of chocolate in it, with a rich chocolate glaze made from sweet cooking chocolate and a pinch of orange slices.

Both are easy to make, leavened with baking powder rather than yeast. The nut bread is especially quick to stir up since it's made with biscuit mix. Like all nut breads, it's better made a day ahead of slicing. With the coffee ring, just the reverse is true. It's best served warm from the oven. If you're not planning to serve it immediately after baking, reheat before serving.

The pretty petal shape of the wreath comes from clipping the dough with scissors. Start with a jelly roll-shaped ring on a baking sheet. Snip at 1-inch intervals with scissors, turning each petal upward so filling shows, and pinching the ends gently in points. The way you hold the scissors determines the shape of the petal. Straight up and down gives more of a point; slant the scissors for rounded petals. For a different looking wreath, alternate pulling petals inward toward center of wreath and outward. You can vary the shape each time you make this Deluxe Coconut Coffee Ring.

CHOCOLATE FLECK NUT BREAD

1 package (4 oz.) sweet cooking chocolate
3 cups biscuit mix
3/4 cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
3/4 cup milk
1/2 cup orange juice
3/4 cup chopped walnuts
2 teaspoons grated orange rind (optional)
Sweet Chocolate Glaze
Fresh orange sections (optional)
Walnut halves (optional)

Remove 1/6 package (3 squares) chocolate, set aside for later use in glaze. Chop remaining chocolate.

Combine biscuit mix and sugar in large bowl. Then combine beaten egg, milk and orange juice. Add to biscuit mix. Beat vigorously about 30 seconds. Stir in chopped chocolate, nuts and orange rind. Spoon into a well-greased 9x5 inch loaf pan. Bake at 350 for 55 to 60 minutes, or until cake tester inserted into center comes out clean. Let stand in pan about 15 minutes. Then remove from pan and cool thoroughly on rack. Store, wrapped in foil or transparent saran. Let stand for one day before slicing to develop flavor. When ready to serve, prepare Sweet Chocolate Glaze, using the reserved chocolate. Spread over top of cake, allowing some to drizzle down sides. Garnish with orange sections and walnut halves.

SWEET CHOCOLATE GLAZE
1/6 package (3 squares) sweet cooking chocolate
1 teaspoon butter or vegetable shortening
2 tablespoons water
2/3 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
Dash of salt
Few drops of vanilla
Combine chocolate, butter, and water in small saucepan. Melt over low heat. Combine sugar and salt in bowl. Gradually stir in chocolate mixture; blend well. Add vanilla. For thinner glaze, add a small amount of hot water; for thicker glaze, cool until mixture is desired consistency. Makes about 1/3 cup glaze.

DELUXE COCONUT COFFEE RING
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup raisins, rinsed and drained
1/2 cup chopped nuts
2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 tablespoons milk
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup granulated sugar
1/3 cup shortening
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/3 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter, melted
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon hot water or milk
1/2 cup flaked coconut, toasted
Candied fruit

To make filling, combine 1/2 cup coconut, the brown sugar, raisins, nuts, 2 tablespoons melted butter, and 2 tablespoons milk; mix thoroughly. Set aside.

To make dough, sift flour with baking powder, salt and granulated sugar. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and 1/3 cup milk. Add to flour mixture and stir until soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll into a 18 x 9-inch rectangle. Spread with coconut mixture and roll as for jelly roll, moistening edge to seal. Bring ends together to form ring on a greased baking sheet. With scissors, cut 1-inch slices almost through ring, turning each slice cut side up and pointing outer edges. Brush with 1 tablespoon melted butter. Bake at 400 for 20 to 25 minutes, or until cake tester inserted into center comes out clean.

Meanwhile, prepare glaze by combining confectioners' sugar and hot water; drizzle over hot cake. Sprinkle with 1/2 coconut and garnish with candied fruit. Serve warm or reheat before serving. Makes 8 servings.

NOTE: To toast coconut, spread in shallow pan, place in 350 oven, and stir occasionally until lightly browned — 7 to 12 minutes.

FILLED COFFEECAKES

DOUGH:
4 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup (2 sticks) butter
2 cakes compressed yeast
1 tablespoon sugar
2 eggs
1 cup cold milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Butter, melted

FILLING:
3/4 cup (1 1/2 sticks) butter
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup finely chopped nuts

To Prepare Dough: Into a mixing bowl sift together flour, 1/4 cup sugar and salt; cut in butter on low speed of mixer or with pastry blender until mixture resembles cornmeal. Mix yeast with 1 tablespoon sugar; when liquified, add eggs

GOODIES

Welcome to our house is the message from these goodies... Chocolate Fleck Nut Bread, Deluxe Coconut Coffee Ring, and other delicious holiday baked goods.

milk and vanilla, beating slightly. Stir into dry ingredients, mixing well. Brush with melted butter, cover and chill overnight. To Prepare Filling: In a mixing bowl cream butter; gradually add sugar and vanilla beating until light and fluffy. Spread 2 tablespoons filling on bottom and sides of each pan. Divide dough in half. On lightly floured surface roll half to measure 10x10 inches; spread with half of remaining filling and sprinkle with 1/2 cup nuts. Cut crosswise into three equal strips, 6-inches wide. Roll each strip lengthwise as for jelly roll to form a 10-inch roll; twist slightly. Braid three rolls together; place in loaf pan 9x5x3-inch tucking ends under. Brush with melted butter. Repeat with second half of dough. Cover and allow to stand in warm place until doubled. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven 45-55 minutes. Turn out of pans immediately to cool on wire rack. Frost with Vanilla Icing. Makes 2 coffee cakes.

VANILLA ICING
3/4 cup confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon milk
1 teaspoon light corn syrup
1 teaspoon butter, softened
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

In a mixing bowl beat together sugar, milk, corn syrup and butter until smooth. Drizzle over top of rolls or coffee cakes.

Christmas Time Convenience

A festive Christmas dinner boasts family favorites made from recipes handed down from grandmothers and great-grandmothers. Hours of careful preparation are a must for many of the holiday favorites we enjoy each Christmas.

This year you can brighten your table with a delightful new convenience vegetable in a holiday wrapping. Serve Christmas Corn Cups—gray orange cups stuffed with delicately flavored shoe peg white corn. The white corn is conveniently packaged in a specially seasoned butter sauce in a flavor-tight cooking pouch. You use the butter sauce as the base for a tangy orange sweet-and-sour sauce that takes only minutes to prepare. Then stuff the orange cups and bake. This holiday vegetable will be a colorful addition to your meal.

CHRISTMAS CORN CUPS

4 small navel oranges
One 10-oz. package shoe peg white corn frozen in butter sauce in flavor-tight cooking pouch

1 tablespoon frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed

1/4 cup brown sugar

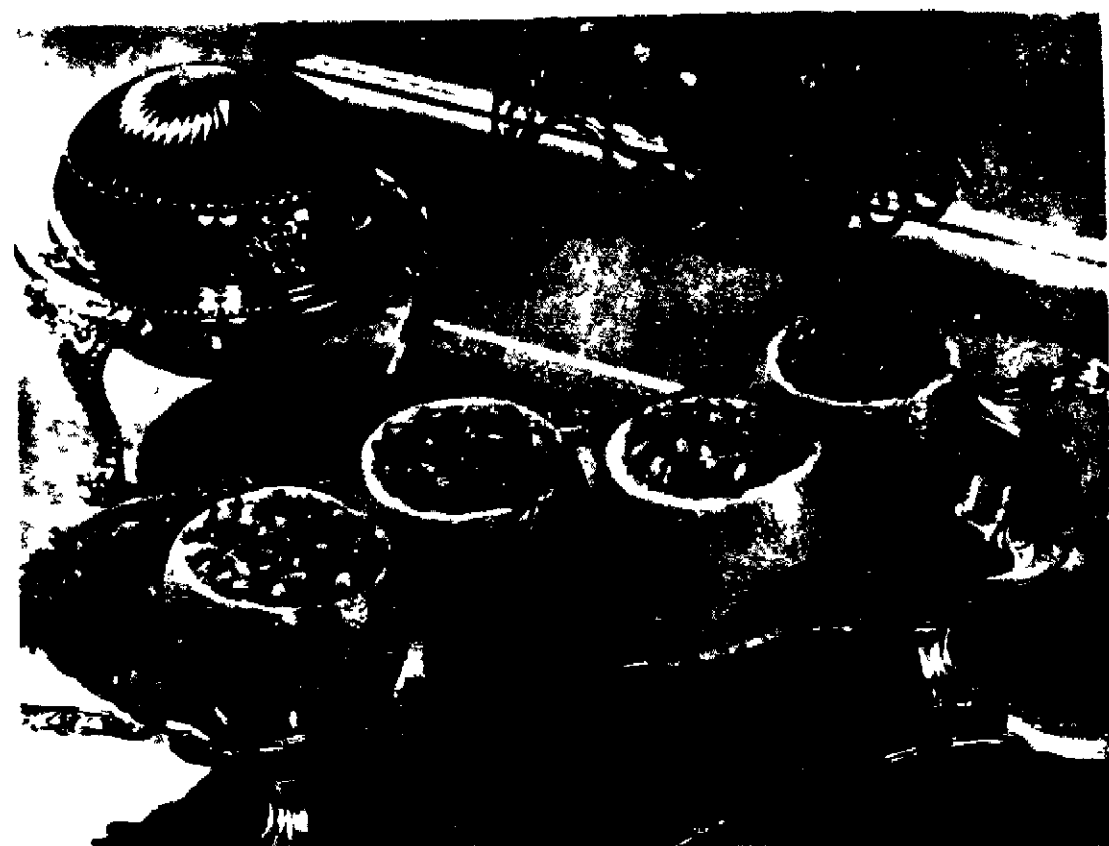

1/2 teaspoon arrowroot

1 teaspoon parsley flakes

3/4 teaspoon white vinegar

Slice off about 3/4-inch from end of each orange; remove pulp with serrated knife. Scrape excess fruit with teaspoon; save for other use. Place orange cups in baking dish or in muffin pan.

Slip pouch of shoe peg white corn into boiling water. Bring water to a second boil, continue cooking until butter sauce is melted. Partially open pouch; drain butter sauce into small saucepan. Add orange juice concentrate, brown sugar and arrowroot; bring to boiling. Stir in parsley flakes, vinegar and corn. Pour into orange cups. Bake at 375 for 25 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

The "Father" of the American Christmas Card is Louis Prang. He created exquisitely beautiful cards in his lithography shop in Boston in 1874. Soon he was selling his cards all over the United States for several dollars each.

CONFETTI WREATH
Use 1/3 of the Potato Roll Dough. Turn out a lightly floured cloth or board. Coat 1/4 cup chopped candied mixed fruit with flour; work evenly into dough. Divide dough in thirds; cover and let rest 15 minutes. Form each third into a 24-inch long rope. Braid the ropes tightly. Place on lightly greased baking sheet, joining ends to form a circle. Cover with towel; let rise until the braid is doubled in bulk, about one hour. Bake in 350 oven 20 minutes or until nicely browned. A few minutes before the braid is done, brush with mixture of a beaten egg yolk and 1 tablespoon milk. Cool on wire rack. Makes one 12-inch wreath.

Holiday Punches

Time to pull out the punch bowl and polish the glasses—the great gadabout season has begun. Young people home for the holidays visit about; old friends meet to toast the coming New Year. The punch bowl becomes a cheerful gathering place for all ages.

Here is an inexpensive holiday punch that can be prepared at the last minute or even after unexpected holiday guests have arrived. Combine any bright red flavor of instant soft drink mix with tangy lemon juice, refreshing pineapple juice, and icy cold water. Or maybe a sparkling, bubbly Economical Tropical Cooler is the order for the evening. It can be prepared in seconds by dissolving a colorful red soft drink mix with sugar in water. Add a can of fruit juice and a bottle of carbonated beverage for an exciting nose-tickling sizzle.

Regular and pre-sweetened soft drink mixes are easy to use, inexpensive, store on the cupboard shelf ready to work at a moment's notice, and can be made in large quantities. For a more elegant evening they can be prepared beforehand and stored in the refrigerator to keep them icy cold.

The bright holiday color can be further enhanced by floating different fruits on top of the punch or centering a gay red or green maraschino in an ice cube to bob in the cup. For the younger set's entertainment colorful fruits may be threaded gaily on a stirrer.

To add a final touch serve a tray of rich butter cookies, lightly flavored with almond extract and crunchy with coconut and chopped almonds.

HOLIDAY PUNCH

1 envelope instant soft drink mix, any red flavor
2 cups pineapple juice
¼ cup lemon juice
2 quarts water with ice cubes
Red and green maraschino cherries

Combine soft drink mix, fruit juices, and water with ice cubes. Stir until soft drink mix is dissolved. Serve in punch cups. Make shish kebabs stirrers by alternating red and green cherries on skewers or wooden sticks. Place a stirrer in each punch cup. Makes 2½ quarts or 20 servings.

CHEERFUL DRINK

Heighten the gaiety of the entertainment season with a cheerful punch bowl of cool refreshing soft drink mix teamed with a tangy fruit juice. Add excitement by threading stirrers with brightly colored fruits.

ECONOMICAL TROPICAL COOLER

3 envelopes instant soft drink mix, any red flavor
1 cup sugar
3 quarts water with ice
1 can (1 qt. 14 oz.) pineapple, grapefruit, orange, or other fruit juice
4 fully ripe bananas, mashed (optional)
1 bottle (1 pt. 12-oz.) ginger ale or lemon-lime carbonated beverage, chilled

Dissolve instant soft drink mix and sugar in water with ice. Add fruit juice and bananas. Stir or whip until frothy and well blended. Then add ginger ale. Pour into a punch bowl. If desired, garnish with banana or orange slices or other fruit. Makes 5 to 5½ quarts or about 50 servings.

COCONUT BUTTER COOKIES

1 cup butter
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup flaked coconut
2¼ cups sifted cake flour
¾ cup ground or finely chopped

blanched almonds
Confectioners' sugar
Cream butter with salt. Gradually add 1 cup sugar, beating until light and fluffy. Blend in almond extract and coconut. Add flour, a small amount at a time, and mix well. Stir in almonds. Chill dough.

Roll small amount of dough with hands, pencil thick. Form into crescents on ungreased baking sheets. Bake at 325 degrees for 18 to 20 minutes, or until slightly golden. Cool on sheets. Sprinkle with additional confectioners' sugar. Store in loosely covered container. Makes about 4½ dozen cookies.

COCONUT THUMBPRINT COOKIES

Prepare Coconut Butter Cookies, forming dough into balls the size of walnuts. Place on ungreased baking sheets and bake at 325 degrees for 8 minutes. Remove from oven and make a depression in center of each ball with thumb or bottom of measuring spoon. Then return to oven and bake 10 to 12 minutes longer. Cool on sheets. Then fill each cookie with 1 teaspoon red or green jelly or jam or orange marmalade. Sprinkle with additional coconut.

we care

what kind of coffeemaker do you use?

It really doesn't matter.

Any coffeemaker can give you a good cup of coffee, providing you use a fine fresh coffee that is ground exactly right for your coffeemaker.

We've always known that the correct grind is important to coffee flavor.

That's why, years ago, we developed Custom-Grinding.

That's why we don't have just one or two grinds but seven different grinds... to fit any coffeemaker, including electric percolators, of course, (Ask for medium-fine grind for electrics).

Custom-Grinding means a little extra work for us and a little extra time for you.

(It takes 15 seconds to grind a pound).

But what a difference in flavor those few seconds make.

You know, there's only one reason we insist on selling custom-ground bean coffees... WE CARE.
